SNAPPING POINT NEAR IN SUBMARINE CRISIS

ADMITS THE AUDIENCE APPLAUDED "VULGARITY"

Detective Jameson Also Criticised the Show, While Roberts, R. C. Turner and Other Witnesses Defended It.

John McMillan, manager of the Bijou theater, who was charged with disorderly conduct in staging an alleged indecent performance at the theater, was fined $50 and costs and instructed to eliminate all so-called objectionable features in the future, after a trial in police court Wednesday afternoon.

John A. Manget appeared as prosecutor, stating that he had visited the theater Tuesday night and had seen several things in the performance which had been objectionable to him.

Detectives Jameson and Chewning went to the theater upon instructions of Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, following the report of Mr. Manget. The officers witnessed the performance and then made cases of disorderly conduct against McMillan and A. M. Markwood, a member of the performing company. Markwood was formerly connected with the Columbia theater, on Central avenue, which was closed by police authorities several months ago.

Vulgar, Says Manget.

When asked to tell what he had found objectionable in the performance by City Attorney James L. Mayson, conducting the prosecution, Mr. Manget stated that there were several parts of the performance which were vulgar, licentious and disgusting.

Upon being requested to do so, he then named several scenes, telling in just what manner they had been repellant to him.

He further stated that out of the audience of probably 200 persons, he only saw six women, four of whom got up and left the theater before the performance had been brought to a close.

One of the specified acts that Mr. Manget classed as highly objectionable was a tango scene, according to his statements, where the chorus in imitation of two comedians were said to have "wallowed on the floor, exposing their nakedness to the audience."

Upon being asked whether or not the chorus girls were stockings or tights, he replied that he did not observe that close, and could not say whether they had or not.

"Mr. Manget, does your mind run in vulgar lines when you say that certain parts of this performance seemed vulgar to you?" questioned Attorney Lawton Nalley, leading the defense.

"I am sorry to say that it does," replied Mr. Manget.

Applauded the Show.

"Did the rest of the audience seem to construe these statements made by the actors in the same manner which you took them?" queried Attorney Scott, another lawyer for the defense.

"Well, they applauded, and seemed to take it the same way I did."

"You mean to say that an Atlanta audience will applaud vulgarity?" continued Mr. Nalley.

"That one did," replied Mr. Manget.

In another part of the trial, Mr. Manget stated that the "Hoochie-Coochie" dance was being enacted on the stage the night he was present with all the abandon and eclat of performances in the Columbia theater prior to the time it was closed.

He stated that the dancers were scantily clothed and danced in the most suggestive manner possible.

After describing the dance, to the recorder, the latter stated that he had seen such a dance.

Detective Jameson, when placed upon the stand, told the court that he had been told to go to the Bijou theater and

No Stenographer Works Very Long For This Company

In Fourteen Months Seven Pretty Girls Have Quit the Elaborated Roofing Co. in Order to Get Married.

There is an extremely young stenographer—too young to marry—presiding over the typewriter in the office of the Elaborated Roofing company. She was selected because she promised to wait until marriageable age before taking the "leap."

Here's the answer:

"Dear Mr. Williams:

I, too, have gone the way of all your other stenographers. He came up and would not go without me.

Yours truly,
(Miss) FANNIE M. BROWN.

"March 26, 1916."

Miss Brown had left the office to get married. So had "all the other stenographers"—seven in all in the past fourteen months.

She neglected to tell the name of her husband, but investigation at the ordinary's office revealed that Miss Fannie M. Brown was married on March 26, by Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, to James W. Austin, Jr., whose address was not given.

When L. E. Williams and George Barrett, co-managers of the Elaborated Roofing offices, came down on the morning of March 26, the place was closed—no stenographer. But beneath the door was the above note, enclosing the key.

She had been employed just one week.

The seven others had worked longer—the longest being one month and a half—before deserting the working girl ranks for matrimony.

Miss Stella Woothan, Miss Lula Chadwick, Miss Winifred Wallace, Miss Hattie Clark, Miss Bertha Perry and Miss Winifred Smith were the six preceding Miss Brown.

But Miss Brown did not neglect to send some of her stenographic friends around to apply for her vacant job. One of them (who frankly admitted being a spinster) said she would work for just enough to live on because of the matrimonial possibilities offered by the job.

But Mr. Williams and Mr. Barrett decided upon Miss Christine Jarnagan, who not only looked too young to marry, but admitted it, and who promised her prospective employers that she would wait until a marriageable age before she quit—and then give at least two weeks' notice.

T. R.'S SECRETARY SENT TO WORKHOUSE

The Colonel Is Indignant About Sentence Passed on McGrath.

New York, March 29.—A stay of sentence was today granted to John W. McGrath, Theodore Roosevelt's secretary, and lately acting secretary of the progressive national committee, who was committed yesterday to the workhouse for thirty days on a charge of disorderly conduct and assault. The complainant was Charles Lighte, Jr., of Brooklyn, who charged that McGrath and William Powers assaulted him in a restaurant in Brooklyn last June.

Colonel Roosevelt issued a statement expressing indignation at the sentence and asserting that McGrath would continue to remain in his service.

The sentence was stayed pending an examination of testimony.

The progressive national committee tonight issued a statement expressing its confidence in McGrath and George W. Perkins made a similar statement.

GERMAN FORCED TO QUIT GLASGOW UNIVERSITY

London, March 29.—Professor Ludwig Becker, a native of Germany, has at the desire of Thomas Mckinnon Wood, secretary for Scotland, withdrawn from the chair of astronomy in the University of Glasgow and departed from Glasgow. Considerable feeling has been aroused by Professor Becker's continued occupation of the chair and the position of chief of the most important observatory station in western Scotland.

ECONOMY

Buy-right Hints for the Housewife

Advertising Thrift

Economy has assumed the importance of a great national movement. Like a tremendous tidal wave, it is sweeping the country from one end to the other. A national campaign of advertising has been launched in its behalf, to impress this world-old virtue on the minds of the people. Its theory and beneficence is expounded from the pulpits; and its advocacy is advanced in inspiring editorials in the newspapers of the country. The subject is being discussed from every angle and viewpoint, and the fund of information we are getting on the subject, and the suggestions and theories being advanced in its name, are highly educational, and not directed to any one particular class of society, but to all classes, affluent and otherwise. We have yet to read, however, in these articles on thrift, the suggestion which we believe to be the best of all, and that is its direct connection WITH advertising. The way to save is plainly pointed out every day in the advertising pages of The Constitution. The messages of the merchants are manifestly the fountain head of economy, because they direct you in the art of buying your daily needs AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

CARRANZA STINGY ABOUT RAILROADS TO UNITED STATES

Use Permitted by "First Chief" Limited by Conditions Which Will Seriously Hamper Supplying Gen. Pershing's Column.

NO REPORTS RECEIVED OF PERSHING'S ADVANCE

It Is Certain Villa Has Eluded His Pursuers for the Present—Cheerful Advices in Regard to Conditions in Mexico.

Washington, March 29.—One of the army's most serious problems in hunting Villa was solved today when General Carranza promptly granted the renewed request of the state department for permission to use the Mexican Northwestern railroad in carrying out the pursuit.

General Carranza received the new request this morning; his answer was in Washington before dark. It was contained in a brief message from John L. Rodgers, special agent of the United States at Queretaro, saying the head of the de facto government agreed to the commercial use of the line. Officials here assumed he would be equally prompt in notifying his officers on the border and that General Funston might begin shipment tomorrow.

Although the army will proceed to use the railroad on a commercial basis, which is construed here as meaning that all service shall be paid for at regular rates, the state department will negotiate further with Carranza to bring about a more complete understanding as to just what he has agreed to. Today's response is regarded as satisfactory in a measure, but it is not sufficiently definite.

May Put Guards on Trains.

It may be, too, that in order to assure the arrival and delivery of supplies shipped to points along the line General Funston will desire to place guards on the trains.

War department officials were greatly relieved by the removal of the necessity for maintaining a motor truck supply line over desert roads. A cloudburst or great storm might render the roads impassable for a considerable space of time, cutting off the troops from their source of supplies.

Aside from the railroad problem, details of the proctocol suggested by General Carranza remain to be worked out through diplomatic channels. State department officials indicated, however, that there is no reason for haste in this connection. As was the case when American troops crossed into Mexico in pursuit of Geronimo, the Apache outlaw, years ago, the formal agreement may not be completed until the expedition has accomplished its purpose and returned. It will serve, however, as the legal basis for the adjustment of all claims arising out of the use of American troops to pursue Villa.

What Carranza Wants.

In Mexico the agreement is understood to have another object. General Carranza is said to desire its perfection as a definite and binding understanding with the United States, which he can show to his people in support of his statement that no sovereign right of his country has been surrendered or violated.

Secretary Baker issued this statement at the war department tonight: "We have directed General Funston to tender for railroad shipment cargoes of supplies, either directly to our military men, or to civilians in Mexico. This does not involve any tender of munitions for such railroad transportation, nor does it involve the use of American military guards on any Mexican trains."

The order of General Funston was dispatched late today. Under it the general will make such use of the railroads as the Mexican authorities permit pending the further negotiations with General Carranza being conducted by the state department.

No News From Pershing.

There was no military news today from the border or from the expeditionary columns. General Pershing's reports to General Funston have been very brief and it has only been the important dispatches from the front that have been forwarded to the war department. Officials viewed with satisfaction, however, press reports saying that American troopers were pressing close on the bandit's heels. No officer here would hazard an opinion as to how long the chase might take.

Medical officers were inclined to discredit reports of extensive sickness among the troops at the front. The region in which they are operating is described as healthy and the men of the expedition are thoroughly acclimated.

A state department summary of dispatches today reported quiet in all districts heard from. There are twenty Americans in Durango and ten more in the outlying districts of that region. "All are reported to be well," the statement said. There are 18 Americans in the Saltillo district where railway communication is open in all directions and a big radio plant in operation.

"General Trevino returned to Torreon on March 26," the statement added, "and it is reported that he will institute an energetic campaign against the lawless element in the lagune region."

CARRANZA PLAN NOT SATISFACTORY.

San Antonio, Texas, March 29.—News that General Carranza had granted permission for the shipment of supplies over the Northwestern railroad to the United States troops in Mexico was re-

Assets and Great Needs Of Atlanta Are Stressed By "Analyzer" of Cities

One of the Most Representative Audiences in History of City Present to Hear Address Made by Allen D. Albert.

UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL URGED BY THE SPEAKER

Favors Compulsory Educational Law, Reorganization of School System and Centralization of Charities.

"Go through! Go through to the gates:
Prepare ye a way for the people;
Raise up a standard for the people;
And thy name shall be known
Oh, city on the hill,
As the city sought out—
—Isaiah, Chap. 62.

Such were the closing words of Allen D. Albert, an "analyzer" of cities, at the Atlanta theater last night in his lecture on "The Forces That Make Cities," which was delivered to one of the most representative audiences ever assembled in Atlanta.

An audience that packed the entire lower floor of the Atlanta and overflowed to the first balcony sat for two hours with unslackened interest, eager to hear every word the famous specialist in city problems had to say. The most prominent business men of Atlanta, leaders in the commercial and business life of the community, and many public spirited women, composed the audience.

He was brought here by the Rotary club of Atlanta, and is the president of International Association of Rotary clubs His home is Minneapolis, Minn., the "city of parks and power."

For three days he has been in Atlanta, scientifically "weighing Atlanta in the scales."

Needs of Atlanta.

Centralization of charities.

Housing code.

Adjustment of health.

Compulsory education law.

Reorganization of school system.

Development of trade channels in normal trade territory—accomplished by means of:

Council of social agencies.

Assertive leadership in social causes with program of community development.

Less of ward near-sightedness and more civic consciousness.

A feature of the address of Mr. Albert was his treatment of the school situation in Atlanta. He recommended the operation of the four high schools under one management, strongly favored the establishment of a university high school to cost not less than $1,000,000, and not to be centrally located; urged reorganization of the school system, and pointed out the fact that of the eighty school buildings of Atlanta only one was fireproof.

Jordan Introduces Albert.

Lee M. Jordan, president of the local Rotary club, introduced President Albert amid the cheers of the large audience. Mr. Jordan took occasion to thank Atlantans for their royal appreciation of the efforts of the Rotary club to be of real service to Atlanta. He termed the occasion as a "happy one for Atlanta" in that she might have the opportunity of seeing herself as an expert does.

President Albert began his speech by paying tribute to the debt Atlanta owes its women.

"Two great agencies, God and the women," he said, "have done nearly everything in the cities of America to beautify American cities.

"The chief function of the government of an American city," he said, "is to give as many people as possible a chance to 'kick.' There is not one in this audience who can give a valid opinion of his own city government."

Why Cities Were Founded.

He then gave illustrations of why great cities were founded. Rome, he pointed out, has three names, all of which denote strength or a place that the people might seek refuge. Rome was first built with a strong wall around it for protection.

The other stages of founding of cities he divided as follows: Places for barter, as the earlier Indian trading posts; third stage, receiving storing and distribution of supplies; fourth stage, invention of steam, modern machinery and transportation methods.

Under the factory system the largest development of congestion ever known was brought about, he pointed out, and added great increases in population of cities.

Under the head of transportation he placed Atlanta, declaring that it owed its growth to the fact it was a natural trade center and was hundreds of years ago the junction of three Indian trails. The fact that Atlanta was a full night's ride from the most important cities east of the Mississippi river was also stressed as an important factor in this city's future growth.

"How apply all these rules to Atlanta? What is Atlanta? This is

DECLARES RENFROE WILL BE CENSURED

Councilman George Freeman Intimates Sensational Disclosures Will Be Made in Report of Committee.

Unexpected developments are promised in the report which the council investigating committee will make public Friday. This was indicated by Councilman George P. Freeman, a member of the board, Wednesday afternoon when asked if the report of the committee was likely to censure certain city officials.

"It will not only contain censures," said Mr. Freeman, "but it will contain several things of interest that have not yet been made public."

The occasion for this assertion was the statement of Councilman J. N. Renfroe to a Constitution reporter that he had seen four of the five members of the investigating committee regarding the published reports that he was to be censured in the committee's report, now in course of preparation, and that these four committeemen had assured him that the report would not censure him. The committeeman he had not seen Mr. Dunlap.

Councilman Freeman said: "You can say for me that I repudiate that statement emphatically. The committee has been conducting an exhaustive investigation covering a variety of charges.

"The committee will meet Thursday afternoon to consider its report, which is being drawn up by Chairman Dunlap, and based upon the conclusions of the committee as a whole. The report will censure Mr. Renfroe and it is going to contain some other things people don't know much about," continued the councilman.

Alderman J. R. Seawright, when seen, refused to make a statement confirmatory or in denial of the statement made by Councilman Renfroe.

According to Alderman Seawright there has been no report made and will be none until next Friday. The alderman was authority, however, for the statement that it was the general sense of the committee to condemn the system of abuses that has been carried on in the city government.

Californian Asks Mayor Woodward To Be Cupid's Aid

Atlanta "Peach" Sought by Traveling Man From the Coast Who Says He Is Now Anxious to Settle Down.

All day Tuesday Mayor James G. Woodward sat in his office at the city hall, dreaming of balmy California, youth and the joys which go with it. For once the little winged god was perched within speaking distance of his honor's desk.

The reason for said lapse of worry is that the city hall may soon add a matrimonial department.

Here's the story:

A young Californian, giving his age as 24, and his residence San Francisco, has written the mayor requesting that a certain "peach" from Peachtree be given his address, name and general description for matrimonial correspondence.

The young man states that he is of good habits, has a good position and has heard of the far-famed Georgia girl as the acme of everything perfect.

He says he is a traveling man, going all over the United States and Canada. He is tired of "beating" the hotel line with a suit case and wants to settle down with a girl who is both good, pretty and sweet.

Another thing which he mentions is that he has a military carriage, is five feet ten inches tall and weighs 158 pounds.

Although Mayor Woodward can extend sympathy and send all kinds of good wishes to the Californian, he states that he cannot attempt to pick the girl as there are too many in Atlanta eligible, let alone in the state of Georgia.

If any young lady would like to spend her winters in California, her summers in Canadian woods and wants a good husband to boot, the mayor requests that she call him, get the name and address and start the correspondence.

MERCIER'S SECRETARY ARRESTED BY GERMANS

Berlin, March 29.—(By Wireless.)—M. Loncin, private secretary to Cardinal Mercier, the Belgian primate, has been arrested, according to an Overseas Agency dispatch from Brussels.

The agency says:

"An investigation was begun some time ago of M. Loncin, who was suspected of maintaining forbidden intercourse with the enemy. A search of his house proved that he had intimate relations with an organization that secretly carried letters between Belgium and the enemy's front.

GROUND IS GAINED BY THE GERMANS IN VERDUN DRIVE

FRENCH DRIVE GERMANS FROM AVOCOURT WOOD

Counter Attacks by the Germans to Regain Lost Position Are Repulsed—Hard Fighting Continues Between the Germans and the Russians.

London, March 29.—The Germans to the northwest of Verdun in an infantry attack launched with huge effectiveness have gained additional ground against the French north of Malancourt and have even penetrated the northwest corner of the village.

The attempts of the Teutons to carry their advance farther, however, were stopped by the French fire, as also were three counter attacks against the positions in the Avocourt Wood, south of Malancourt, which had previously been taken from them by a French infantry attack. The German official communication says that the advance of the Germans north of Malancourt was over a front of more than a mile.

During the German offensive on Malancourt the French heavy guns from the Argonne were directing their fire on the Malancourt and Avocourt woods.

Aside from the infantry attacks and counter attacks in this region a heavy bombardment has been in progress from Avocourt northeastward of Bethincourt, a distance of 5 miles. There has also been a continuation of the sporadic outbursts of artillery fire to the north and east of Verdun; while in the Vosges mountains the French batteries have been keeping up their usual bombardment of German organizations.

In mining operations in the Argonne the French have blown up German posts and between the Oise and the Aisne have dispersed German convoys with their guns. The Germans claim that in a hand grenade encounter they captured from the British a mine crater at St. Eloi. The British declare they have consolidated all the ground gained on March 27.

HARD FIGHTING ON RUSS FRONT.

Although a thaw has set in on the Russian front and the rivers are flooded and the lowlands turned into morasses, hard fighting between the Germans and Russians continues from the Dvinsk region southward. Near Lake Narocz the Germans have been driven out of a wooded sector and their counter attacks repulsed. German trenches have been taken by the Russians in the Oginski canal region.

The Russians have been on the offensive along the Stripa river and on the Bessarabian front. In the latter region the Russian artillery is very active.

The repulse of vicious Italian attacks on the northern slope of San Michele and near San Martino on the Austro-Italian line is chronicled by Vienna. Austrian airmen have bombarded Italian railway lines in Venetia.

The Greek government has protested to the central powers against the air raid over Saloniki last Monday in which twenty persons were killed. Saloniki says the Teutons lost four of the seven machines which delivered the attack, together with their crews.

The Turks turned to the offensive against the Russians in the coastal sector of the Caucasus, but the Russians beat the enemy off with heavy casualties and forced them to retreat.

The Russian war minister, General Polivanoff, who has held office for the last nine months, has retired at his own request, according to an unofficial dispatch from Petrograd, which adds that General Chouvaiev, of the war office, has succeeded him.

GERMANS CLAIM NOTABLE GAIN.

Berlin, March 29.—French positions north of Malancourt several lines deep along a front of 2,000 yards have been stormed by German troops, the German headquarters staff announced today.

The statement follows:

"Western front: North of St. Eloi one of the mine craters occupied by the British was wrested from them as a result of a hand grenade engagement.

"On the left bank of the Meuse our troops, with little loss to themselves, stormed French positions north of Malancourt over a front of about 2,000 metres. They also penetrated into the northwestern portion of Malancourt. The French left in our hands twelve officers and 148 unwounded men, one gun and four machine guns. Examination of the prisoners taken enabled us to confirm the belief that two or more French divisions have been brought into the fighting.

"Eastern front: The Russians did not repeat their attacks in the northern sectors yesterday, but continued during the day and the night their [illegible] of Narocz lake. On seven occasions our troops repulsed the enemy, sometimes by means of bayonets.

"A German aerial squadron bombarded with [illegible] the enemy's rail-

EVIDENCE GROWING TO PROVE GERMANY WANTONLY FLOUTS AMERICAN RIGHTS

Numerous Recent Attacks on Ships Carrying American Citizens Has Created Most Serious Situation Which Has Confronted the United States Since the War Began.

U-BOATS ARE ATTACKING DESPITE PLEDGES GIVEN BY GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Washington Hears That Secret Orders Have Been Issued to Submarine Commanders to Sink Every Ship, Neutral as Well as Belligerent, Approaching the British Isles—All the Facts Being Gathered to Enable United States to Act With Force.

Washington, March 29.—The accumulation of circumstantial evidence indicating that Germany has engaged upon a campaign of submarine warfare which has no regard for the rights of American citizens traveling on merchant ships of belligerent nationality the administration considers has created one of the most serious situations which has confronted the United States since the beginning of the war in Europe.

Every agency open to the state department tonight was being employed in an effort to gather an unimpeachable array of facts regarding the explosion which damaged the British channel steamer Sussex, the sinking of the British ships Manchester Engineer, Englishman and Eagle Point, and the alleged firing of a torpedo at the French passenger ship Patria. All of these ships carried American citizens and all apparently were attacked in violation of Germany's recently renewed assurance to the United States.

SHOW-DOWN TO BE FORCED.

The next step of the United States is said authoritatively to have been determined upon. Unless Germany, in reply to the inquiries made by the United States through Ambassador Gerard, makes some statement to cause the state department to change its present intentions, it is understood that all the recent aggravating incidents will be combined into one general formidable indictment, which will bring the entire subject to a clear-cut issue.

C. F. von HERRMANN,

to satisfy the United States by saying that a mistake had been made, offer to make reparation and to punish the submarine commander, the issue would not by any means be disposed of. It is regarded as certain that the United States would not accept such an explanation as satisfactory, at least until time had shown what punishment actually was meted out and whether any value longer could be attached to Germany's promises.

IF GERMANY DISCLAIMS.

In the event of Germany disclaiming responsibility for the disasters, the United States will proceed with its investigations to determine to its own satisfaction whether the evidence which now strongly indicates that the Sussex and other ships were torpedoed without warning can be regarded as conclusive proof. With such proof before it, the government probably would act promptly. Officials refrain from discussing what the action would be.

The very number of apparently unwarranted attacks recently is regarded by the administration as particularly significant. The number is said by officials to have disposed of the theory that the explosion might have been caused by mines. Some of the cases, it was pointed out, have occurred in localities where there is no possibility of mine fields having been laid because of the depth of the water and the distance from shore.

SECRET ORDERS BY GERMANY?

It became known during the day that the state department had heard unofficially the suggestion that German submarine commanders were acting under secret instructions such as were advocated by Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, to torpedo every vessel, neutral as well as belligerent, approaching the British Isles. As the United States was advised the new orders to submarines which went into effect March 1, provided for the attack without warning of all armed merchantmen of the entente allies. There has been no official confirmation whatever of the secret order report. However, the number of disasters which have overtaken unarmed merchantmen recently, including those under neutral flags, caused some officials to credit the suggestion that orders of some kind other than those of which the United States is advised are in effect.

What is described in high administration circles as the extreme gravity of the situation makes it necessary for the United States to proceed with the utmost care in preparing for the next step. Especial effort is being made to have all the essential facts in each case developed from the best testimony and evidence available. Information is being, or will be, collected through American embassies and consulates, naval experts, officers, crews and passengers of ships reported to have been attacked and the governments whose flags the ships flew.

It is assumed that the British, French and Netherlands governments will be quite willing to follow the example set by the Italian government in the case of the Ancona and supply the state department, upon its request, with all information they have gathered through their own sources.

CASE OF SUSSEX CARDINAL FEATURE.

While all the recent cases under investigation will play important parts in the final consideration of the situation, the case of the Sussex undoubtedly will form the cardinal feature. Officials are impressed with the completeness of the evidence available regarding details of the Sussex explosion, the declaration of passengers that they saw the wake of a torpedo, and, above all, the fragments of metal which were found and which have been described as parts of a torpedo. These pieces of metal will be examined by American experts.

A dispatch from Ambassador Gerard reporting the result of the inquiries he has been directed to make, momentarily was expected tonight. It is presumed that the inquiries already have been made. They concerned the cases of the Sussex, the Englishman and the Manchester Engineer.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, returned to Washington tonight from a visit to New York. He said he had no word of any kind from his government relating to the recent developments.

First official information concerning the sinking of the Eagle Point was contained in a dispatch received later in the day from Consul Frost at Queenstown. This read as follows:

"British steamer Eagle Point torpedoed yesterday without warning 100 miles from land. All saved. One American."

Consul Frost immediately was instructed to gather additional information. Press dispatches from Canada last night made the flat assertion that the Eagle Point was on government service. The state department had no information on this subject. If the ship was a government auxiliary the United States, of course, would not be concerned in the attack upon her.

VESSEL SHELLED, THEN TORPEDOED.

Further state department dispatches today regarding the sinking of the steamer Englishman said the vessel was shelled and torpedoed. At first this was taken by officials to mean that the ship was trying to escape when she was sunk. Later, however, it was made clear that the vessel was shelled while trying to escape, but that when torpedoed she had come to a stop.

The position of the United States is that a submarine is operating within the law when she shells or torpedoes a merchant ship trying to escape. As soon as the merchantman capitulates, however, she is entitled to immunity from further attack.

The dispatches to the state department do not make it clear whether all the members of the Englishman's crew were removed before the vessel was torpedoed, and additional information on that point is being sought. If the members of the crew were removed, difficulty over the case of the Englishman may be obviated.

President Wilson discussed the submarine issue at length today with Colonel E. M. House, who came here yesterday to aid in the solution of the situation growing out of the attack on the Sussex and the Englishman. Counsellor Polk, of the state department, also saw Colonel House.

A dispatch from Dover today said Wilder Penfield and Joshua D. Armitage, American survivors of the Sussex, were improving. George H. Crocker, another American, is seriously injured.

SUSSEX TORPEDOED, SAYS PROF. BALDWIN.

Paris, March 29.—Professor J. Mark Baldwin, one of the Americans who was on the Sussex, is quoted in a Boulogne dispatch to The Excelsior as saying that the manner in which the explosion occurred leaves no doubt in his mind that the steamship was torpedoed. The following statement is attributed to him:

"I was on the upper deck of the Sussex when the explosion occurred. Suddenly the steamer quivered from the shock, of somebody striking it. The shock was followed after a certain lapse of time—about fifty seconds—by a formidable explosion. It was a torpedo that struck the ship, for a mine would have exploded immediately on striking."

London, March 29.—According to reports in circulation here, twelve hours after the Sussex was struck, a British destroyer engaged in picking up survivors from a lifeboat, was attacked by a German submarine, which fired two torpedoes. Both missed their mark. The lifeboat had drifted after leaving the Sussex, but is said not to have been very far from the scene of the disaster.

The admiralty has a large number of pieces of metal found aboard the Sussex which government experts are examining. They presumably will make a report to the admiralty on them.

MORE SHIPS SUNK BY GERMAN U-BOATS.

London, March 29.—Another Dutch steamship, the Duiveland, has been sunk. All the crew were saved.

London, March 29.—The British steamer Lavinia Westoll has been sunk. Her crew was saved. The last report of the Lavinia Westoll shows that she sailed from Savonoa, Italy, March 9 for Almeria, Spain. She was a vessel of 3,131 tons and was owned by James Westoll of Sunderland.

London, March 29.—"The British steamer Kilbride was sunk by an enemy submarine March 1," says an announcement by Lloyd's this evening. The Kilbride was a vessel of 3,712 tons. She was built in 1901 and owned by Connell Brothers, ltd., of Glasgow. Available shipping records do not show the recent movements of the steamer and it is probable she was in the British government service.

London, March 29.—The British steamer Berwindvale was attacked today but not sunk. The Berwindvale, a vessel of 5,232 tons, sailed from Galveston February 24, and Newport News, March 2, for Avonmouth, according to available shipping records.

POOR FAMILY AIDED BY THE CITY WARDEN

A young wife, barely out of her teens, burdened with the care of her sick husband and the demands of two infant children, was confronted Wednesday with the problems of being stranded in a city and without money or friends.

The unfortunate victims of circumstances were J. T. Reed and wife and their two children, aged 2 years and 8 months, respectively.

They were discovered Wednesday in the union station, where they had spent the night. The attention of the travelers' aid agent was called to the woman, who was cheerfully ministering to the wants of her dear ones as best she could.

Inquiry developed that the husband had been employed at Columbus. He was compelled to give up his work on account of serious illness. They were on their way to Clinton, S. C., where the husband has relatives. Upon purchasing tickets for their destination it was found that they only possessed sufficient funds to get them to Hapeville, from which point they walked into Atlanta Tuesday.

The sympathy of the travelers' aid being aroused transportation to Clinton was procured from City Warden Evans and the family left for their destination Wednesday afternoon.

INVASION OF CANADA PLANNED BY GERMANS

Von Der Goltz Brought From England to Testify About the Conspiracy.

New York, March 29.—A military expedition to invade Canada, which was halted by the failure of a Buffalo, N. Y., lawyer to appear at a time agreed upon with an organized "firing squad," it was asserted tonight, was part of an alleged conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States upon which agents of the department of justice are secretly working in connection with the return here yesterday from England of Horst von der Goltz.

Von Der Goltz, who, it is said, claims to have been a trusted agent of Captain von Papen, former German military attache in this country, was questioned at length today by United States District Attorney Marshall and his assistant.

Von Der Goltz, according to Captain William Offley, chief of the local bureau of the department of justice, and Assistant United States Attorney Wood, told an impressive tale of plot and counter plot.

The federal authorities let it be known that the publicity given to Von Der Goltz's return here, accompanied by a detective sergeant from Scotland Yard, may interfere with their plans to round up suspects wanted in connection with the alleged proposed military expedition to Canada which, it was said, Von Der Goltz has admitted, involving the blowing up of railroad bridges and public buildings, and the destruction of the Welland canal.

Von Der Goltz went to England the latter part of 1914, under the name of Bridgman Taylor and, according to persons closely identified with the department of justice investigation, recently arranged with the British authorities to be returned here to give testimony.

Von Der Goltz is quoted as having said he was supplied by persons involved in the alleged plots here with plans and diagrams for the destruction of Canadian property. He is said to have declared his assistants, while pro-German, were not of German descent, but were actuated by hatred of England.

VON RINTELEN OFFERS TO BETRAY ASSOCIATES.

Washington, March 29.—Franz von Rintelen, a German held in England as a prisoner of war, has sent word to officials here that he can give testimony of value in prosecuting neutrality cases and is willing to do so if permitted to come to the United States in custody as was Herst von Der Goltz, who arrived in New York yesterday. Rintelen's offer will be considered, but it generally is understood British authorities probably would not be willing to let him cross to this country.

There is some speculation here as to how the Scotland Yard men who brought von Der Goltz to New York will regain custody of the prisoner after his testimony in connection with neutrality cases is finished. The British officers told New York authorities they were giving up von Der Goltz under an agreement that he would be returned to their keeping later. Officials of the state and justice departments and the immigration bureau said today they had heard of no such agreement and at the justice department doubt was expressed whether an understanding of that kind could legally be made.

The arrival of von Der Goltz and the possibility that von Rintelen might be brought to the United States led to a rumor today that more sensational developments were expected in connection with neutrality prosecutions. Officials concerned in the enforcement of the neutrality laws said, however, there was no ground for such a report.

EXPRESS CO. RECOVERS MOST OF STOLEN MONEY

Only $300 of $5,000 Taken From Bank Shipment Is Still Missing.

Columbus, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) It was learned today, although not officially, that the Southern Express company has recovered $4,700 of the $5,000 stolen from a package of $25,000 that was being transferred by the express company from a Columbus bank to a Savannah bank last Thursday.

Where the money was recovered and under what circumstances has not developed. Local express officials are silent, saying that they can give out nothing at present. M. M. Sadler, the express wagon driver, who is said to have confessed to the theft of the $5,000, is still out of Columbus, although his whereabouts are said to be known, and he is understood to be in the custody of the express people and detectives.

Various automobile and railroad trips into Alabama on the part of express officials and detectives have featured the search for the stolen money. It is said that a vigorous effort is being made to recover as much of the money still missing—$300—as possible.

SPECIAL REVIVAL HELD BY SECOND BAPTISTS

The auditorium of the Second Baptist church was nearly filled last night, it being the largest audience which has assembled during the week for the special revival meetings now in progress. The Business Women's league is behind an effort to pack the church at tonight's service, and the Bible school will attempt to insure the greatest throng of the week for Friday night.

Mr. Wolslagel, who has been in charge of the music since the inauguration of the special evangelistic campaign, spoke and sang to 200 young people at the Southern Shorthand and Business college Wednesday, and will lead the devotional period of the chapel exercises at Georgia Tech tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. He is also expecting to sing several solos at this time. The special numbers of the song service led by the visiting singer at the Second Baptist church last night were a vocal solo by Mrs. H. A. Porter, a duet by Mr. J. D. Hoffman, and Mr. Wolslagel, a selection by the chorus choir, and two baritone solos by Mr. Wolslagel.

The revival will end with the meetings next Sunday.

TREATMENT OF ADDICTS UP TO STATE BOARD

There is no immediate prospect of the city government taking any steps towards the treatment of its addicts, according to City Physician J. G. Wilkins.

"The addict question is one of the utmost importance in Atlanta," said the physician. "Some means should certainly be devised by which a clinic could be opened for the care of this class of unfortunates.

"Since the order of the city medical board that all free treatments of addicts cease on April 1 over a hundred persons had called upon the offices of the city physicians.

"A majority of these applicants for relief have filed application with the state health board," continued the physician, "and they should, by all means, be cared for."

Claims Committee Meets.

The city committee on claims held a short session Wednesday afternoon in the offices of the city health department. The allowance of a few unimportant claims was made. The meeting was the lightest held in months according to members present.

TANLAC HELPED ME MORE THAN I EVER DREAMED IT COULD

Mrs. Wilson Was So Badly Crippled Up With Rheumatism She Couldn't Cross the Street by Herself.

SAYS NO ONE WILL EVER KNOW HOW SHE SUFFERED

"I Never Saw Such a Change in a Woman in My Life," Says Her Mother-in-Law. Has Gained Ten Pounds.

"I have never seen such a change in a woman in such a short time in all my life," said Mrs. M. A. Wilson, of Atlanta, in speaking of the remarkable recovery of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, who lives at 186 Nelson street.

"It's the simple truth," said the younger Mrs. Wilson in her statement to Dr. E. B. Elder, "Tanlac certainly has helped me more than I ever dreamed I could be helped, for I've had chronic rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble for seven years and I had tried all known methods of treatment in the effort to get relief.

"I tried medicines, I tried doctors, and when these failed me I even tried mental and magnetic healing; but none of these seemed to do me any good and I was just about to give up, for I was in such pain and so nervous that I did not want anybody to come about me or speak to me.

"My condition was such that I couldn't sleep and I just felt like I couldn't live any longer. I had pains in my lower limbs all the time and would have headaches and backaches continually, and the rheumatism kept me so stiff and crippled I could not even cross the street by myself.

"My liver was out of order, too, and I had lost strength and flesh until I was little more than skin and bones. I can never tell anyone how I suffered and I really don't know how I managed to stand it as long as I did.

"At last I took the massage treatment from a lady here in Atlanta and she urged me to take Tanlac, as what I needed most in my condition was something to build me up and give me some strength and nourishment.

"I have now taken four bottles and the results are simply wonderful. I have actually gained ten pounds and I am getting stronger and better every day. My sleep is as sound and peaceful as a child's and I can now walk better than I've been able to in several years. My kidney and bladder troubles are leaving me so fast that I am positive a full course of Tanlac will make an absolutely well woman of me.

"I am now telling all my friends about this wonderful medicine, for I feel that too much cannot be said about a thing that will relieve suffering like Tanlac did for me."

MARRIED BRITONS SOURCE OF WORRY

Enlistment Question Not Yet Settled by the Government—Trying to Ameliorate Hardships of Married Men.

London, March 29.—An important pronouncement from the government on the question of the enlistment of married men was expected in the house of commons today. The cabinet met in council, before the house assembled, to discuss the matter, and in some quarters it was expected radical decisions would be made.

However, as Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Grey, War Secretary Kitchener, Minister of Munitions Lloyd-George have not yet returned from Paris, where they took part in the conference of the allies, this was not possible, and the settlement of the question as to whether it will be possible to avoid resort to obligatory service for married, as well as single men, was necessarily postponed.

The pivotal point of the situation is Premier Asquith's emphatic declaration some months ago that he would not remain a member of any government which introduced general conscription, and in the face of this binding declaration it would seem that conscription of married men could only come about by the disappearance of Mr. Asquith from the ministry. It may, therefore, be assumed that another obligatory service bill will not be introduced in parliament without a grave cabinet conflict and crisis, especially as the conscriptionist party strongly opposes the accession to the premiership of David Lloyd-George, who is regarded in political circles as the natural successor to Mr. Asquith.

Trying to Help Married Men.

When Walter Hume Long, president of the local government board, moved the adjournment of the house today to make his recruiting statement in behalf of the government, it was found that the ministers had limited their resolutions to ameliorating as far as possible the hardships to the married men, seeking by all available steps to swell the number of single enlisted men by abolishing some of the reserved occupations, more extensive employment of women and the immediate calling up of men between 18 and 19 years of age, who are to be put in training, but will not be sent abroad.

Mr. Long opened by defending Lord Derby, the director of recruiting, from what he called unjust attacks. He said that Lord Derby's demands had been reasonable and that the government had met nearly all his wishes, while other suggestions he made were still under consideration. As the result of the investigations of a committee appointed for that purpose, the government had found it possible to reduce greatly the number of reserved occupations and to substitute women for men in munitions factories to an extent previously believed impossible, by which means a large number of men had already been released for military service.

By the first of May, he said, a large number of occupations connected with the manufacture of munitions would be removed altogether from the reserved list, and steps were being taken to investigate whether it would be possible similarly to release more miners without reducing the coal output.

Two hundred and seventy-five thousand women had been found for commercial, clerical and transport work and another fourteen thousand for farm work.

Tribute to Married Britons.

Mr. Long paid an eloquent tribute to the loyal self-sacrifice of the married men who had attested, which the country gratefully recognized. He earnestly denied that they had been unfairly treated. He was certain they would not spoil their honorable record because the exigencies of the war had resulted in their being called to serve earlier than expected.

After explaining that the calling up of the men under 19 years would release a large number of men for foreign service, he proceeded to outline the government's proposals for dealing with hardships arising through the enlistment of married men. These included grants from the pensions committee, and power extended to the courts to break leases and other contracts entered into since as well as before the war.

Mr. Long said that everything that could justly be done should be done to get the greatest number of single men and reduce the pecuniary and other burdens of the enlisted married men. The government regarded it as a sacred duty to do everything in their power to support the heroic men at the front.

The last class of unmarried men, those who have reached the age of 19 since their attestation, appeared in large numbers at recruiting offices today to join the colors.

There is now only one proclamation in connection with enlistments. It calls on the first eight groups of married men to present themselves on April 7. This is the proclamation which has caused so much dissatisfaction throughout the country, it being felt that all single men who are evading service in various ways should be called upon before the married men are compelled to serve.

FRENCH ADMIT GERMAN ADVANCE.

Paris, March 29.—In an attack with heavy forces against the village of Malancourt today the Germans succeeded in gaining a footing in an advanced work north of Malancourt and in occupying two houses in the village, according to the official statement issued by the war office tonight. Further attempts to advance were checked by the French fire.

The text of the communication reads:

"Between the Oise and the Aisne our artillery dispersed large convoys to the northeast of Moulins-Sous-Touvent.

"In the Argonne we exploded a mine north of Four de Paris. The explosion destroyed a grenadier post and shelter and shattered the enemy works.

"Our heavy artillery directed its fire on the Malancourt wood and Avocourt during German counter attacks on the adjacent sector.

"West of the Meuse the bombardment continued with violence during the day from Avocourt as far as Bethincourt. Three successive counter attacks of the enemy against positions captured by us this morning the Avocourt wood were completely repulsed.

"In the course of an attack with heavy effectives directed on the village of Malancourt the Germans were able to gain a footing in an advance work situated north of Malancourt and to occupy two houses in the village. All attempts to push beyond this were stopped by our fire.

"Some artillery squalls occurred east of the Meuse and in the Woevre as far as Les Eparges. In the Vosges we bombarded the German organizations at Stosswelr and Muenster."

The Belgian official communication says that the artillery was only slightly active.

The French communication issued in the afternoon follows:

"In the Argonne district our batteries have bombarded the southern boundary of the wood of Cheppe. A fight with hand grenades, made in conjunction with activity in the next sector, made it possible for us to make progress, particularly in the connecting trenches of the enemy to the north of Avocourt. We also took several prisoners.

"To the west of the Meuse the enemy last night made no fresh effort against our positions at Haucourt and Malancourt. The bombardment, however, assumed a certain intensity along our front at Bethincourt, Le Mort Homme and Cumieres.

"This morning after an intense preparatory artillery fire our troops delivered a spirited attack against the German positions in the wood of Avocourt which the Germans had strongly fortified. A violent and sudden counter attack delivered by the enemy with a fresh brigade which had arrived on the scene but a few days ago was completely repulsed by us. The enemy suffered heavy losses and left fifty prisoners in our hands.

"To the east of the River Meuse there has been great activity on the part of the opposing artillery forces in the region of Vaux and Douaumont and in the Woevre, in the sector of Moulainville.

"On the remainder of the front the night was quiet."

BATTLE RAGES ON RUSS FRONT.

Petrograd, (via London,) March 29.—The following communication was issued today:

"Fighting continues in the Dvinsk region and there has been a violent artillery fire at some places south of Dvinsk.

"In the region west of Lake Narocz we have dislodged the enemy from the southern part of the wood south of Mokritza and by our fire repulsed later counter attacks by the enemy.

"There have been violent fusillades at some places in the region of the Oginski canal. Near the village of Somino our detachments forced the wire defenses of an enemy post and ejected from the trenches the Germans defending them. The Germans fled over the canal.

"Enemy aviators have dropped bombs in the region of the Politzy and Lounmetz stations.

"On the front of the Middle Stripa we repulsed enemy attempts to attempt our trenches.

"A thaw has commenced on the whole front. The marsh and lake regions are all inundated, not only in the south but also in the north. The melting of the thick covering of snow on all the northern roads is creating extraordinary difficulties in the movement of troops and artillery.

"In the Caucasus, on the coast sector, our detachments which had occupied the heights of the left bank of the River Oghen Dere, sustained during Monday night a series of desperate enemy counter attacks. All of them were repulsed and the Turks, having suffered terrible losses, beat a retreat, leaving behind prisoners and a gun. We also took prisoners in the direction of Erzendjan."

AUSTRIAN REPORT ON OPERATIONS.

Berlin, March 29.—(By Wireless.)—On both the Russian and Italian fronts Austro-Hungarian troops have withstood vigorous assaults, inflicting heavy losses on the attackers, the official Austrian statement of March 28 says. The announcement follows:

"Russian front: North of Boyan (probably Bojana, Bukowina,) the Russians exploded mines and attempted repeatedly to enter our positions. They were repulsed with heavy losses. The usual nightly attack by the Russians in the Stripa region of the front broke down, owing to the fact that we exploded mines in the foreground. Russian artillery was active on the Bessarabian front and near Olika.

"Italian front: Fighting is going on near the Gorizia bridgehead. In the Doberdo sector the artillery is active on both sides. Italian attacks on the north slope of San Michele and near San Martino were repulsed easily. East of Selz the engagement is still in progress. In the Ploecken sector all attacks of the enemy were beaten back. Before the portion of the Carinthian front held by the eighth Chasseurs battalion more than five hundred dead Italians were observed.

"Austro-Hungarian airmen dropped bombs on railroads in Venetia, owing to the fact that heavy traffic was observed."

BRITISH RELIEVE FRENCH TROOPS.

London, March 29.—"The official statement having revealed the fact that the British armies have taken over a length of the line previously held by the French," says Reuter's correspondent at the British headquarters in France, "I am permitted to refer to it.

"The new dispositions were carried out with great skill and secrecy and the result has been the release of large French forces, who were manifestly of great value in another area. At present the British are probably holding something like one-fourth of the entire length of the western front, extending in an unbroken line from the Yser to the Somme.

"Although the hour of the British army may be at hand, it is not yet. Nor is there any reason to believe that the Germans will succeed by their attacks on Verdun in upsetting the prearranged strategy of the great coming offensive."

ARTILLERY DUELS ON ITALIAN FRONT.

Rome, March 29.—(Via London.)—The following official statement was issued today:

"In the Vermiglio valley the effective fire of our artillery dispersed enemy troops employed on defense works. Along the railway lines and roads in the Lagarina valley and the Sugana valley continuous movements of troop trains are being hindered wherever possible by our gunners.

"On the Valpana summit between the Calamento valley and the Campello valley our detachments attacked and dispersed enemy working parties.

"Hostile artillery displayed great activity yesterday against the positions captured by us at Selletta Friekofel and Del Cavallo pass, but we replied successfully, putting to flight small enemy detachments which were beginning an attack.

"On the Isonzo front the artillery activity is intense. On the Carso we repulsed enemy attacks attempted in connection with the action which developed on the Gorizia heights, reference to which was made in yesterday's communication.

"Between Vermigliano and Monfalcone our infantry successfully counter attacked, capturing some dozens of prisoners.

"A desperate fight on the heights northwest of Gorizia, which lasted about forty hours, ended successfully for us. After intense concentrated gun fire against our entrenchments at Grafenberg, which already had been damaged by storms, the enemy opened an attack with a very important force on Sunday evening. Our troops offered obstinate resistance and held back the masses of the enemy operating against our flanks. In the center after furious hand-to-hand fighting one of our battalions retired about 400 yards, taking with it about thirty prisoners.

"A very lively interchange of gun fire continued throughout the succeeding day. Our infantry began a counter attack in the evening and by repeated charges retook by storm the positions previously lost. We captured 302 prisoners, including eleven officers and much war material.

"The fourth enemy aeroplane brought down by our rifle fire landed yesterday near Vittrori. Both occupants were captured."

AEROPLANES RAINED DEATH ON SALONIKI

Paris, March 29.—Twenty persons were killed, 30 or 40 were wounded and two German aeroplanes were destroyed in the aerial raid over Saloniki Monday, says an official statement.

The statement reads:

"A squadron of seven German aeroplanes attempted to make a raid on Saloniki Monday. Their purpose was to reach the warships anchored in the harbor but they were obliged to give this up by the fire of the French artillery.

"Pursued by French aviators two of the German aeroplanes were destroyed.

"Bombs thrown down by the German aviators caused the deaths of twenty persons and brought wounds to 30 or 40 others."

Saloniki, March 29.—(Via Paris.)—Four German aeroplanes were brought down in the air raid over Saloniki today. Two of the machines were shot down as they tried to approach the water front, while the others were brought to earth later during a chase by French machines. The aviators in all four of the machines were killed.

Protest by Greece.

Athens, March 29.—(Via Paris.)—The Greek government has protested to the central powers against the bombardment of Saloniki last Monday.

The aerial bombardment of Saloniki causing the death of Greek soldiers and civilians has aroused deep feeling here. The liberal press protests against continued neutrality.

The question of declaration of martial law was raised again in the chamber of deputies last night. The government discouraged hostile comment on the actions of the Germans. Notwithstanding the attitude of the government the Saloniki raid was characterized in the chamber as "simply assassination" and as "German frightfulness," designed to intimidate the Greeks. The government has forbidden mass meetings planned at Saloniki.

Le Patris says that the consuls of the United States, Spain and Rumania have asked their governments for authority to leave Saloniki with their respective nationals owing to the insecurity of the place.

Outbursts Against Germans.

Saloniki, March 29.—(Via Paris.)—The mayor of Saloniki has telegraphed King Constantaine asking that the population of the city be protected against future raids. The funerals of the victims of the aerial attack were marked by shouts of "down with barbarians and criminals."

One of the bombs fell in front of the house of General Moschopoulos, commander of the Greek forces in Saloniki.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and
Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—(adv.)

COTTON SEED FIGURES COMING EVERY MONTH

Measure Passed by House Also Requires Statistics on Cotton Seed Products.

Washington, March 29.—The Lever bill, authorizing the census director to collect and publish monthly statistics of cotton seed and cotton seed products, was passed by the house late today after an all-day debate and now goes to the senate.

Chairman Helm, of the census committee, gave notice that he would call up next week the Heflin bill, directing the bureau to collect and publish statistics of cotton consumed in the manufacture of explosives during 1915 and quarterly thereafter.

In reporting the Lever bill, Representative Aswell, of Louisiana, said it was drafted after a conference with the census director and that it would afford an opportunity of making free application of the law of supply and demand.

"The census bureau now provides for collection of statistics from all the oil mills regarding the quantity of cotton seed crushed and linters obtained," he said. "This bill, however, provides for amplification of these statistics and makes mandatory the publishing of them at stated periods. The additional expense probably will be about $10,000, with less annually after the first year."

The census committee report on the bill said:

"This bill rounds out and completes the statistics now being collected by the bureau of the census concerning the cotton crop. It provides for the collection of data for all products of the cotton plant which are now of commercial value.

"There has been a great deal of speculation and manipulation of the prices of cotton seed and its products. The prices have been increased and decreased without regard to the actual production to the quantities of seed and oil on hand. This law will enable the director of the census to give the producer information concerning the quantities of cotton seed purchased by the oil mills and the stocks on hand, and it will furnish the oil mill man with information of this character and also with statistics concerning the quantities of crude and refined oil, meal and cake on hand, the quantities of oil purchased by the refineries and the stocks on hand at given dates.

"This information will lend greater stability to prices and enable all people engaged in the industry to obtain accurate statistics that will show at a glance the actual conditions of the market."

Charles E. Currier, president of the Atlanta National bank, is reported as being greatly improved and resting easily at St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. Currier was discovered Wednesday morning in a semi-conscious condition in the corridor outside his apartments.

RECEIVERSHIP REFUSED FOR ATLANTA NORTHERN

Marietta, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) The receivership petition of W. M. Harris against the Atlanta Northern Railway company was refused here today after a hearing before Judge H. L. Patterson.

The original petition of Mr. Harris was the result of a verdict for $2,500 damages against the company and was brought after his attorneys found they could not levy upon the railway's property. The petition was granted on March 4, but vacated until March 29 after the company had deposited $4,000 with the clerk of court at Marietta to protect the interests of Mr. Harris. At the hearing Wednesday it was shown that the railway company had already paid the damages to Mr. Harris, the damage suit having been finally decided.

Another interesting point in the case came up when receiver's and counsel's fees were asked. Lengthy arguments which took up the greater part of the session were made on this question, but the matter was finally continued until a hearing here two weeks from next Friday.

THE public preference for Goodyear Tires affects alike all parts of America, as shown by our recent tire census in 71 centers.

The grand average of Goodyears was 21 per cent—and this with close to 200 brands of tires on the market.

This Goodyear preference is built upon the bed-rock of public satisfaction—the individual experience of the average man, who has found that Goodyear Tires go farther, last longer, and so cost him less in the end.

GOODYEAR AKRON TIRES

Easy to get from Goodyear Service Station Dealers Everywhere

Goodyear Tires counted here totaled 1,187, or 22.34 per cent out of a grand total of 5,311.

Results in other cities give Goodyear as high as 43 per cent of all the tires noted—proof positive that Goodyear is the one preferred tire.

OFFICERS SEARCH FOR HIDDEN MONEY

Believe Part of Train Robbery Loot Is in Atlanta. More Arrests by Local Detectives Expected Soon.

Federal authorities and detectives are nearing the end of their work in the sensational Central, W. Va., train robbery case, which up until a late hour last night had caused the arrest of five men in four different cities. Two more suspects in Atlanta may be arrested and the detectives are now searching for a part of the stolen currency which, it is believed, is hidden here.

Detectives Cochran and Doyal, with Postoffice Inspectors Berry and Graham, have worked night and day on the case for the past month, and, although they are not yet able to give out any information, they admit that the case is on its wind-up.

Charlie Harrison, uncle of Carl Rentz and brother of Jeff Harrison, under arrest in San Antonio, Texas, and Dick Harrison, dying in jail at Grand Rapids, Mich., could not be located by a Constitution reporter at an early hour this morning, although it was admitted in dispatches from the Atlanta federal authorities to those in Cincinnati that he was in custody of Atlanta officers.

Information was received late Wednesday morning to the effect that there are new developments in the investigations at Rome, Ga., with the discovery of three more suspects in that city.

It was stated Wednesday that the gang which Dick Harrison admits he headed was composed of himself and his two brothers, Charlie and Jeff; his nephew, Carl Rentz, and two others not yet arrested. His confession was made to free his wife, who was held in jail under suspicion.

A search has been going on for the past several weeks to locate that money, but it has not yet been found, it is said.

The theory of the case as advanced by the detectives is that the three Harrison brothers, with one other, held up the train at Central. Following the hold-up and getaway, the entire bulk of the $100,000 in unsigned bills was placed in an automobile, driven by Carl Rentz, and then brought to Atlanta.

The Harrisons scattered—Jeff to San Antonio; Dick and his wife to Grand Rapids, Mich.; one other to Rome, Ga., and the others came into Atlanta.

From time to time the currency was signed by means of the stenciling machine and then forwarded to the others. Young Rentz and his uncle, Charlie Harrison, are said to have been in charge of the money here.

SWIFT IS FOUND DEAD IN ROOM AT WINECOFF

I. G. Swift, 60-year-old stockman of Elberton, Ga., was found dead in his room at the Winecoff hotel Wednesday, shortly after noon by a negro maid. When found, the body was lying face downward on the floor with the rocking chair toppled over on top of it.

It is thought by T. G. Swift, son of the dead man, that death came while his father was rocking in the chair. He was subject to attacks of heart failure.

The body will be sent to Elberton by the Greenberg & Bond Undertaking company.

Mr. Swift is survived by his wife, two daughters, Miss Sarah Swift and Mrs. W. D. Tutt; his mother, Mrs. N. J. Penn, and two brothers, T. M. and J. K. Swift, of Elberton, besides the one son.

Well Known in Elberton.

Elberton, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) Ike G. Swift, who died in Atlanta today, was one of the most prominent, wealthy and beloved citizens of this place. He was about 55 years old. His widow, who was a Miss Truman, of Athens, and three children, Mrs. W. D. Tutt, Miss Sarah Swift and Thurman Swift, survive him. The interment will take place in Athens tomorrow afternoon.

Recorder Moved By Mother's Plea To Free Her Son

Homer McCoy Is Placed on Probation Instead of Being Sent to Jail on a Charge of Theft.

While tears rolled down his cheeks, and his aged mother clung to his arm, Homer McCoy, aged 24, of 404 Elm street, begged to be allowed to go on probation instead of to jail, in police matinee Wednesday afternoon. He had been arrested Tuesday afternoon by Detectives Jameson and Chewning for larceny.

"Don't send me to jail, judge. Let me go on probation," pleaded McCoy. "I am the only support of my old mother here and I just have to stay out of jail and work for her. I didn't steal those bed springs and I promise you that I will work and keep out of trouble in the future."

"Don't send him up, judge," pleaded the mother. "He's all I've got. His father is dead and his brother is down with a fatal disease. Please let him go on probation and stay with me."

The officers, insisted that something be done with the man, stating that he had stolen a wagon-load of bed springs from a Decatur street merchant, and was a hopeless drug addict.

After considering the case, Recorder Johnson stated that he couldn't be hard on the man on his mother's account, and allowed Probation Officer S. J. Coogler to take charge of him.

SWINDLE OVER WIRE IS CHARGED TO MAN HELD IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) A man who gives his name as Jack Nickolas is under arrest at police headquarters tonight charged with having obtained money by telegraph through impersonation of J. J. Lanier, a well-known citizen of Americus, Ga. It is alleged that Nickolas went to the Columbus office of the Postal telegraph company last Friday and wired H. M. Howell at Americus to telegraph him one hundred dollars, signing the name, "J. J. Lanier." The money was promptly sent and as identification was waived the Postal people delivered the money to the man after they had asked him the usual questions as to his identity.

Subsequently it was learned in Americus that the message from Columbus was not from Lanier. Two or three days later Nickolas went to Howard, Ga., it is alleged, and again wired Mr. Howell, signing "J. J. Lanier" to the message, requesting that one hundred and fifty dollars be sent him over the Western Union to Columbus. The money was not sent over the Western Union and Nickolas then telephoned the Postal people asking if they had any money for him. The Postal office was co-operating with the Western Union in the matter, and told Nickolas that the money was there for him. The man went to the Postal office and when he walked in was arrested.

Nickolas is about thirty years of age.

AUGUSTA WILL BENEFIT BY FIRE, SAYS LOYLESS

Predicts Greater Progress in Six Months Than Would Otherwise Result in 15 Years.

Thomas W. Loyless, editor of The Augusta Chronicle, and one of the state's best known newspaper men, was in Atlanta yesterday on a brief business trip. He was surprisingly optimistic over the outlook in Augusta, a city with its heart swept out by the flames of last Wednesday.

"Augusta will progress more in the next eight months," he said last night, "than she otherwise would in fifteen years. The city will be better off for the fire. The citizens will be spurred to make a greater, grander city.

"Although the fire was enough to discourage a city treble the size of Augusta," he said, "the city was never daunted for a moment. Business and municipal affairs have never lagged for a moment. The people have joined hands not only to overcome the misfortune, but to profit by it.

"There will be a new Augusta in six months. The work of reconstruction has already begun, and will go forward at a faster pace just as soon as insurance matters can be adjusted.

"Augusta is optimistic, hopeful. The people know that the town is going to be rebuilt at once on a greater scale, and that the Augusta of tomorrow will be bigger than ever imagined before the disaster.

"Not enough can be said of the leaders of the movements to care for the homeless and other sufferers, and there is no tribute adequate enough for the thousands who have given most of their time and effort toward helping the other fellow.

"This spirit of fellowship in such a time of stress is going to be one of the biggest forces in the rebuilding of the city."

The Chronicle is being published in Macon until quarters can be secured in Augusta. Its new twelve-story building was directly in the path of the flames. While the fire was still at its height The Chronicle crew moved what equipment could be taken out into a commercial establishment and upheld the record of more than 100 years—that of having never missed an issue.

Talented Interpreters Of Shakespeare Coming With Ben Greet Players

Elsie Herndon Kearns, one of America's most beautiful and talented interpreters of Shakespeare, will play a leading part in the Ben Greet production of "A Comedy of Errors," which will be presented on the campus of Agnes Scott Wednesday, April 5, and at Georgia Tech Thursday, April 6. Both performances will be in the afternoon.

Miss Kearns was already a star of note when at Smith college, where she took important roles with the Smith College Dramatic club.

The Greet players have appeared in every city of importance in the United States and England for the past fifteen years. Aside from the educational benefit, there is always keen enjoyment to be derived from hearing these masterpieces of English drama, especially when acted by such a well balanced company.

Atlanta people will feel an unusual interest this year in seeing these plays in view of the preparations which are being made here to celebrate the Shakespeare tercentenary. A great deal of space is being given by the press all over the country to telling what little is known of the greatest writer of the English and there has been a considerable revival in the study of Shakespeare's plays.

Thousands of Eagles Will Visit Atlanta On Way to Savannah

Eagles, thousands of them, will pass through Atlanta next August. This has been assured by Frank E. Hering, South Bend, Ind., editor of The Eagle Magazine, the official organ of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Mr. Hering has been in Atlanta several days conferring with railroad men relative to the transportation of delegates to the sessions of the grand aerie, which will convene early next August in Savannah, Ga., and which, it is estimated, will be attended by 15,000 members of the order and their wives. Mr. Hering's business here was for the most part with officials of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, the Louisville and Nashville and the Central of Georgia railways, over whose lines the majority of the delegates will travel. And incidentally he was making preliminary arrangements for the entertainment of a majority of the delegates in Atlanta, as he says the convention plans contemplate stopovers in this city of at least a few hours, either en route to or returning from Savannah.

STILL IS DISCOVERED ON BOARD HOUSEBOAT

Macon, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Revenue Agent Pierce and a couple of deputy United States marshals today found a complete "moonshine still" on board a houseboat a few miles below Macon on the Ocmulgee river and placed "Bill" Bass, a white man and the alleged operator of the "still," under arrest. He is now in the Bibb county jail. The distillery was not in operation at the time, but gave evidence of having been operated within the last two or three days. A quantity of mash and beer was destroyed along with the "still."

More than six hundred persons contributed to the movement.

$5,000 PREMIUM LIST FOR HEREFORD CATTLE

Announcement Made Wednesday Afternoon by Southeastern Fair Manager.

R. M. Striplin, general manager of the Southeastern fair, returned yesterday afternoon from Jackson, Miss., where he attended the annual cattle sale of W. J. Davis & Co., of that city.

Fifty-five head of pure bred registered Hereford cattle were sold at public auction, bringing an average price of $511 per head.

Buyers from eleven states, R. J. Kinzer, of Chicago, Ill., secretary of the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' association, and a number of the directors of that association were at the sale.

The Hereford association, through Mr. Kinzer and the directors that were present, agreed to duplicate last year's arrangement with the Southeastern Fair association for the offering of a $5,000 premium list for Hereford cattle again at the 1916 Southeastern fair. This year premiums will be offered for all breeds of cattle, insuring exhibits of all of the different breeds at the fair grounds this fall, instead of there being only one breed exhibited, as last year.

The opening date of the Southeastern fair this year is one week after the closing date of the Royal Live Stock show at Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Kinzer and his associates assured Mr. Striplin that each and every exhibit at the Royal show in Kansas City this fall will be shipped in special train direct to the Southeastern fair.

116 SILENT CLOCKS IN U. S. BUILDING TO SOON BE TICKING

To most people there is nothing else in the world so "trying" to the nerves as a silent clock. In the federal building in Atlanta there are 116 of them; and that brainstorms are as rare as they are official tenants of the edifice is taken as a testimonial to the splendid mental equilibrium of the attaches to Uncle Sam's pay roll in Atlanta.

But relief is in sight. In fact, a man direct from the factory in Chicago, whence the clocks came originally ten years ago, is due in Atlanta today to fix the "master clock," which dominates all the others, and which has been out of kilter for several years.

This "master clock" is an intricate affair, located in the basement somewhere, and runs by compressed air. It communicates motive power to and governs the movements of every one of the 116 smaller instruments which adorn the walls of the various offices. The clocks never did run satisfactorily, says Mr. Blalock, and for three years he has been trying to get something done to them.

FEDERAL BUILDING WILL SOON BE MADE READY FOR SPRING

Uncle Sam's federal building in Atlanta is to undergo, before long, a thorough application of "spring house cleaning," the first time in its ten years' history. It is to be painted throughout its first and second floors and the third and fourth in part. Bids for this work will be opened at 2 p. m., April 11. The work, it is estimated, will cost between $5,000 and $6,000.

An appropriation sufficient to paint the woodwork in the entire structure, in corridors and offices, was desired, but it is figured that after the first second and parts of the third and fourth floors shall have been completed the money available will be gone. The remainder of the third and fourth floors and all of the fifth, where the army and navy recruiting stations are located, will have to wait until congress experiences another throb of generosity.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomachache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directons for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

NAVY CIVILIAN CRUISE PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Battleships to Be Used Will Start on Their Journeys August 15.

Announcement was received by Lieutenant W. A. Hodgman, in charge of the naval recruiting service of this district, with headquarters in Atlanta, that the navy's civilian cruise will begin August 15 and last until September 12. The announcement came direct from the navy department in Washington.

This cruise is expected to do for the navy what the citizen-soldier training camp, like that held at Plattsburg, N. Y., last year and that to be held at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., next April-June, did and is intended to do for the army, afford training along lines of national defense to business men and other civilians able to pass the government's requirements.

Battleships of the Atlantic reserve fleet will be used for the cruise, the announcement says, and the starting points will be Boston, Newport, New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk and possibly Charleston.

It will cost civilians enlisting for the cruise their traveling expenses to the point of embarkation and return, and $30 additional to cover the cost of the cruise. Applicants for enlistment for the cruise must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of 19 and 45 years, and must be able to pass a prescribed physical examination. They must be able, too, to demonstrate to the recruiting officer that they possess some nautical knowledge or have some technical training which would fit them for service in the navy.

Enrollment will close June 1, and application blanks may be had at the various naval recruiting stations.

SOUTH GEORGIA WANTS NEW JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

Moultrie, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—The next general assembly will be asked to create a new judicial circuit in south Georgia by taking the counties of Tift and Colquitt from the southern circuit and the counties of Worth and Turner from the Albany circuit. Both of these circuits are already too large, it is claimed, and since the city courts of Moultrie and Sylvester have been abolished it has been necessary to hold superior court in Colquitt and Worth every three months. This has added to the work of the presiding judges until they have practically no vacation period.

MANY STARTLING FEATURES TO BIG SHOW BY AD MEN

The opening act of the Ad Men's show at the Atlanta theater Wednesday evening, April 12, will look more like a mobilization than a minstrel feature. In fact, the conventional minstrel make-up has been cast aside, for the Ad Men are nothing if not original, and they have adopted a military costume for the entire cast except the end men, who will be black-faced, representing waiters, messenger boys and porters.

There will be everything that is usually found in a minstrel show, and more. There will be new jokes, local hits, solos, and Vincent Hurley, the director of the feature, is training a superb chorus.

The end men include Arvid Kantor, Fred Bishop, P. E. Falvey, Frank Adair, Fred Houser and Wylie West. Stanley Mathewson will act as interlocutor.

The climax of the evening will be the grim tragedy based on city politics, "A Day in the Mayor's Office." The plot and theme of this soul-stirring drama has not been disclosed. It is being written, it is said, by several retired politicians, who are going to bare some startling inside information on city hall affairs.

The purpose of the show is to raise funds for sending a big delegation of Atlanta ad men to Philadelphia to the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

P. C. McDuffie is chairman of the "On-to-Philadelphia" committee. J. H. Atchison is business manager of the show, Arvid Kantor is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the show and William Daniel of the program committee.

"A Busy Day in the Mayor's Office" will be directed by Frederick Bishop, publicity manager for the Ansley hotel, who had five years' experience on the stage.

G. A. SPEER, JR., HONORED.

Atlantan Mentioned in Orders for Conspicuous Bravery.

George A. Speer, Jr., formerly of Atlanta and now holding a lieutenant's commission in the Twenty-first Canadian battalion, overseas service, has been mentioned in orders for conspicuous bravery.

According to advices received from the front Lieutenant Speer and a company of picked patrol distinguished themselves by a night foray in which they cut and destroyed some important barbed wire entanglements of a formidable nature. During the wire cutting the entire patrol were under a constant machine gun fire from the enemy. The party succeeded in destroying the entanglements and returning to the trenches without a casualty.

The party was composed of the following, who were also mentioned in orders with usual recommendations: Captain A. P. Miller, Glen Miller, Ontario; Lieutenant George A. Speer, Jr., Atlanta, Ga., U. S. A.; Lieutenant M. L. Shepherd, Alexandria; Grenadier W. H. Saxby and Scout Doyle, of Ottawa.

Lieutenant Speer formerly held a commission as first lieutenant in the United States army. Upon the outbreak of the European war he resigned his commission and enlisted in the Canadian Overseas battalion now in France.

OFFICIAL PIED PIPER ARRIVES IN ATLANTA

Rat's Instinct Better Than Man's Intelligence, Says Dr. L. H. Hirsh.

Ready to demonstrate his ability to rid Atlanta of rats speedily and effectively, Dr. L. H. Hirsh, of New York city, according to all reports a veritable Pied Piper of Hamlin, arrived in the city yesterday and is at the Piedmont hotel.

Dr. Hirsh bears the unique distinction of being the official rat catcher for the United States government. He holds this title and appointment by virtue of an act of congress passed November 21, 1911. Dr. Hirsh arrived in the city accompanied by his assistant, several thousand commendatory letters from government officials and numberless columns of press clippings.

"The instinct of a rat is greater than the intelligence of a man," said Dr. Hirsh to a Constitution reporter last night. "To prove to you that this is so and that in no way is it an exaggeration, I will cite an instance. I made this statement once and a friend of mine, a professor in Columbia college, disagreed with me. In order to prove my statement I had a number of big, healthy rats caged for five days and nights without food. At the end of this time they were so weak they could not stand, but were still alive.

"I then made a cake of food I knew rats were especially fond of, inserting poison in such a way that it would be impossible for a man to detect. I then sprinkled the cake with my enticing rat odor prepared especially for that purpose and approached the cage.

"The odor enlivened the rodents to such an extent that they regained their feet and charged the wires of the cage. When I dropped the cake in the trap they made a rush for it, but no sooner did they reach it than they all withdrew, and refused to touch it. It was left in the cage for several hours and remained untouched.

"Now where is the man who can equal that under similar circumstances? A man starved and desperate would have eaten the cake even if it had been intimated to him that it contained poison, and in no way could he have detected it if no such intimation was given."

The government rat exterminator is in Atlanta for the purpose of making a series of demonstrations which will prove to be most interesting.

FAMOUS "BEN BOLT," LYRIC OF THE SEA, IN "HEART SONGS"

Dr. Thomas Dunn English, born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 29, 1819, studied law and was called to the bar in 1842, but studied medicine and commenced to practice in 1848, varying his labors by acting as editor, and contributing both prose and verse to various publications.

Nathaniel P. Willis, one of the immortals of American literature, was editing the "New Mirror" and asked English to contribute a poem, preferably an ocean lyric. English began his task by achieving the first line, "O, don't you remember Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?" the name being considered conclusive evidence that its possessor was a sailor, and an "old salt" at that.

To this song several airs were adapted, but in 1848 it was introduced into the Mexican war drama of "The Battle of Buena Vista." Nelson Kneass found a German melody, from which he evolved the present arrangement. At once "Ben Bolt" became the rage, it was sung, played, hummed and whistled all over the country, and crossed the Atlantic almost ahead of the packets.

Only a few years ago Du Maurier in his successful novel "Trilby," revived the public interest in "Ben Bolt," making its simple melodies the wonder and charm of the musical world, as rendered by the splendid vocal chords of a French Grisette, while under the hypnotic influence of a Jewish musician.

This song is found on page 96, of "Heart Songs," which has had such a wonderful distribution by this paper.

Requisition Granted For Innes and Wife By Governor Ferguson

Victor Innes and his wife will be in Atlanta Monday or earlier to face prosecution before the Fulton county courts on a charge of larceny after trust in connection with the disappearance of Beatrice Nelms and Elois Dennis in 1914.

The requisition has been granted by Governor Ferguson, of Texas, and Governor Harris was notified Wednesday by wire. Detective John Starnes and County Policeman Carl C. Heard left at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for San Antonio, where the Inneses have been in custody for more than a year.

They were first arraigned before the Texas courts on the charge of having murdered the Nelms sisters, but were freed because of the inability of the prosecution to produce identifiable portions of the bodies of the alleged victims.

Miss Annie Dickey Weds Rev. H. H. Jones at Oxford

Oxford, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—The village of Oxford greatly appreciates the honor conferred upon it by Miss Annie Dickey, the charming and accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Edward Dickey, of the First Methodist church, Atlanta, in choosing the old home town and Allen Memorial church as the place of her wedding. Miss Dickey was married to Rev. Henry Hart Jones, of Atlanta, an alumnus of Emory and Vanderbilt, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, by Bishop Warren Akin Candler.

The church was artistic and beautiful in its decorations of palms and smilax. The color scheme was pink and white.

To the strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march, played by Mrs. H. H. Stone, the ushers, Messrs. Starbuck Jones and Robert M. Strickland, of Atlanta, and Messrs. Haygood Evans and Robert C. Mizell, of Oxford, came down the opposite aisles, followed by the members of the Sunshine club, little Misses Frances Turner, Frances Johnson, Nell Johnson, Lora Lee Turner, Susanne Stone, Mildred Burt, Rebecca Weldon, and Marie Goodyear, bearing wands festooned with pink roses. The Sunshine club was organized by Miss Dickey when she lived in Oxford.

Next came little Claire Hanner, cousin of the bride, bearing the ring in the heart of a snow-white calla lily. Down the other aisle came two little fairies, Misses Lellita Stipe and Rachel Johnson, daintily scattering peach blossoms in the path of the bride, who, with her sister, maid of honor, Miss Jessie Dickey, came slowly down the aisle.

The bride was met at the altar by Mr. Jones and the best man, his brother, Mr. Charles Jones, of Atlanta.

The bride was a vision of loveliness in a gown of white chiffon satin, with pearl and lace trimmings and court train, wearing a wedding veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses showered with valley lilies. The bride's only ornament was a crescent of sapphires and pearls, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was becomingly gowned in pink taffeta and net, and carried pink roses.

Brilliant Reception Given.

A brilliant reception was given Mr. and Mrs. Jones at the residence of Mrs. Julia Dowman, an aunt of the bride. College and town were there to add love and best wishes to their dear friends, "Annie" and "Henry."

The receiving line was as follows: Dr. and Mrs. James E. Dickey, of Atlanta; Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Jones, the bride and groom; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jones, Sr., of Atlanta, parents of the groom; Mrs. Julia Dowman, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Boyd, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dowman, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jones, Jr., of Atlanta.

The guests were met at the door by Mesdames H. H. Stone and W. F. Melton. Others assisting Mesdames Dowman and Dickey at the reception were Mrs. W. F. Wynn, Miss Lynn Branham, Miss Elizabeth Branham, and Miss Margaret Wynn, in the dining room; Mrs. Julius Magath at the bride's table. Miss Katherine Magath was in charge of the bride's book. Misses Emily Melton, Mary Starr, Virginia Peed and Annie Sue Bonnell presided at the punch bowls.

Special guests at the wedding were Misses Emaline, Hazel and Laura Wood and Mrs. Warren A. Candler, all of Atlanta, and Mrs. M. E. Boyd, of Spartanburg, S. C.

The bride's going-away suit was of blue taffeta with hat to match.

Will Attend Council.

Mrs. C. M. Hawkins and Mrs. J. I. Chappell, of St. Louis, will represent the St. Louis conference at the coming meeting of the missionary council of the Methodist women of the south to meet here in April. Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Chappell gave the Georgia women a hard race last year at Little Rock, when contending for the present session of the council to meet here.

Mrs. Nat G. Rollins, of Texas, will be one of the interesting personalities of the Women's Missionary council. She has just returned from Panama, where she represented the council in the congress of Christian work in Latin-America.

Cobb, president of the Holston conference, will be one of the strong women of the coming session of the Woman's Missionary council. Mrs. Cobb was for many years one of the secretaries of the Y. W. C. A. and is a leader among women. Mrs. George C. Cocke, of Los Angeles, Cal., will represent the Los Angeles conference in the coming council meeting. Mrs. Cocke is a charming woman and one of the strong mission workers of the Pacific coast.

Miss Mabel Head, foreign secretary of the board of missions and of the Woman's Missionary council, is one of the strongest women in the body of mission workers soon to meet in Atlanta.

Miss Head is not a Georgian by birth, but by adoption, having lived in Georgia about 18 years, during which time she was president of the Dalton Female college, at Dalton, Ga., and professor of English in the LaGrange Female college, at LaGrange, Ga. At the time she was called into the official life of the woman's work of the Methodist church, she was serving as recording secretary of the Georgia Federation of Woman's clubs. Miss Head was a delegate to the recent congress at Panama. As secretary of the foreign affairs of the council she has exhibited rare traits of leadership and is now administering the work with exceptional skill in the face of momentous difficulties both in Mexico and the Orient.

Marriage of Miss Grace Sims And Mr. Grover Middlebrooks

The marriage of Miss Grace Sims and Mr. Grover Middlebrooks was a beautiful event of last night, taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas LeRoy Sims, on North Jackson street, Dr. Luke Johnson officiating.

Miss Ruth Sims was her sister's maid of honor, and Mr. Chauncey Middlebrooks was best man.

The groomsmen were Mr. Ernest Ramspeck, Mr. William McLarin, Mr. Julian Thomas, Mr. Stewart Brown, Mr. Carl Smith, of Greensboro, Ga.

Throughout the reception floor smilax and palms, pink roses and sweet peas were used in a picturesque decoration scheme.

A bank of palms and ferns extending across one side of the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock, was a background for the altar in front of ferns and Easter lilies. The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white tulle, daintily embroidered in pearls, over white satin. The court train fell from the shoulders and her only jewel was a diamond and platinum pendant, the gift of the groom. Her veil of tulle was adjusted with a wreath of orange blossoms and her flowers were white orchids showered with valley lilies.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore beautiful gowns of pink tulle and silver over pink taffeta, the maid of honor carrying white roses showered with valley lilies and the bridesmaids pink roses showered with sweet peas.

The bride's mother was handsomely gowned in black crepe meteor and lace, and the groom's mother, Mrs. W. M. Middlebrooks, wore black charmeuse and lace.

A reception followed the ceremony and an elegant buffet supper was served. The centerpiece of the table in the dining room was a large basket filled with pink roses and sweet peas, the candle shades and other pretty details reflecting the color of the flowers.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Reese Hightower, wearing a gown of white taffeta and tulle, trimmed in silver; Mrs. R. C. Cassells, in black lace and silver; Mrs. Walter Brown, in black lace over orchid-colored taffeta; Mrs. R. L. Logan, who wore green tulle over white satin, and Mrs. Roy Sims in apricot lace over taffeta and trimmed in crystals.

Serving punch on the enclosed front porch and in the library were Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick, Miss Margaret Traylor, Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Marie Winkins and Miss Dorothy Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. Middlebrooks left for a wedding trip to New York and other points and on their return will go to housekeeping in their attractive home recently completed on Myrtle street.

The marriage is one of sincere interest to a wide circle of friends. The bride is one of the prettiest and most lovable of young women, one of her greatest attractions being her charm of manner. Mr. Middlebrooks, who is junior member of the law firm of Bryan, Jordan & Middlebrooks, is one of the best known of the younger lawyers at the Atlanta bar and has a host of friends.

Among the out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Logan, of Washington, Ga.; Mr. Carl Smith, of Greensboro, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sims, of New Orleans, and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Truitt, of LaGrange.

ATLANTA MAY ENTERTAIN BIG S. S. CONVENTION

Augusta Unable to Properly Care for Meeting Owing to the Recent Fire.

Owing to the recent fire which lay waste the greater part of Augusta, Ga., Atlanta in all probability will be the Mecca for practically 2,000 Sunday school workers early next May. The convention was first awarded to Augusta.

A decision will be reached as to whether or not Atlanta will entertain them at a meeting of the pastors and Sunday school superintendents, called for 6 o'clock this evening, in room 1519 Hurt building, the office of the Georgia Sunday School association. This meeting has been called by D. W. Sims, Atlanta, general secretary of the association, who Wednesday received from Joseph R. Sevier, general chairman, at Augusta, a telegram asking Atlanta to take the convention off Augusta's "hands."

Owing to the fire, says the wire, Augusta is so crippled that it would be decidedly inconvenient to attempt to entertain a convention of the proportions this one promises to be.

The matter was taken up with the Atlanta Convention bureau, and little doubt is expressed that the convention will be brought here. The dates set for it are May 2-4.

Head Stopped Up? Can't Breathe?
Try the Vick Vap-O-Rub Treatment

Applied in Salve Form Over Throat and Chest Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption.

Vapor treatments are best for inflammations of the air passages. The vapors carry the medication direct to the inflamed surfaces without disturbing the stomach, as internal medicines will do. A very convenient vapor treatment is a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve over the throat and chest, covered with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases vapors that are inhaled with every breath, opening the air passages, loosening the phlegm, and healing the raw surfaces. For deep chest colds, first apply hot wet towels to open the pores. Vick's is then absorbed through the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

Of a Famous New York Maker's Sample Line Enables Us to Announce What We Consider
The Most Important
Offering of Fine Suits Made This Season!

NEWER suits, madam, are not to be found. The man who made these is generally conceded to be the best manufacturer in New York. He gets his models from the famous designers of Paris—CALLOT, LANVIN, BRANDT, POIRET, and others.

Large orders were booked from these sample suits: the maker was through with them as samples. As a trade courtesy (our account with this maker totals thousands of dollars annually) the suits were turned over to us at far below their worth. On the same basis, they are to be turned over to our patrons.

What are the styles? Why, everything that is new—belted suits, high-collared suits with flaring jackets, plain tailored suits, and elaborately trimmed suits. The fabrics are imported gabardine, French serge, English mixtures, and velour—this designer employs only the finest materials. They come in black, navy and other fashionable colors for spring.

Instead of telling you what the full prices for these suits would be, we are going to merely reiterate what we have said above—that we consider this the most important offering of high-grade suits that has been made this season in Atlanta. We have never presented finer suits at these prices—

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for your.

NUXATED IRON

$100.00 FORFEIT

Increases strength of delicate, nervous, rundown people 200 per cent in ten days in many instances. $100 forfeit if it fails as per full explanation in large article soon to appear in this paper. Ask your doctor or druggist about it. Jacobs' Pharmacy always carry it in stock.

ARE YOU SLOWLY COMMITTING SUICIDE?

It's an even chance that you are. If you're neglecting your liver, just letting it go along any old way, you're permitting poisons to stagnate in your system that the liver ought to normally eliminate. These poisons weaken every organ in the body, and shorten the duration of your life by many years.

By all means, keep your liver straight. If you'll just do that, all the organs are most likely to take care of themselves.

Just take a little McElroy's Liver Key regularly, and you'll lengthen your life and keep yourself in continuous good condition. It's pleasant to take, and mild in its action. All good druggists keep it in 25c and 50c bottles.—(adv.)

8 CAPITAL SHIPS URGED FOR NAVY

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Wants to Double Program for This Year—U. S. Navy Falling Way Behind.

Washington, March 28.—Appropriation by congress for eight new capital ships this year, double the number proposed in the administration's five-year navy program, was recommended by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt today in concluding his testimony before the house naval committee. Secretary Daniels will appear tomorrow as the last witness to be heard before the committee begins drafting its bill. His examination is expected to require several days.

Mr. Roosevelt explained that the recommendation for eight ships immediately represented his personal views and not those of the department.

"I believe the government and private yards could take care of eight capital ships this year," he said. "I personally think it would mean a great step, for the moral effect upon the country and also our international relations. If Germany should continue to build at her present rate of three ships a year, our program of three and one-fifth ships in five years would not quite catch up but would mean a gain. We would probably pass France with which we are now neck and neck."

The Japanese Navy.

Questioned about Japan's navy, Mr. Roosevelt said both Japan and Germany were reported to have secret building funds and programs. Representative Farr, of Pennsylvania, asked how much stronger the American navy was than the Japanese.

"That depends upon the scene of operations," replied the witness. "If the fleets were kept apart we are about three to two. If the operations were in Japanese waters we are about equal. Japan would probably be superior in extreme western waters. If they attempted to come over here the conditions would be reversed."

Emphasizing need for battle cruisers the assistant secretary said dreadnaughts had won the principal victory in Europe without firing a shot by keeping the seas clear of the enemy's fleet. He expressed the belief that there was a possibility of the United States being involved in war even after a European peace and declared that the nation was "richer and weaker than ever in history," with great potential resources, but unprepared to withstand an immediate martial shock.

Mr. Roosevelt said if the European war resulted in a draw much friction in international relations which might affect the United States would continue.

Farm Boys for Navy.

Discussing the naval militia, he said farm boys were more easily trained for naval purposes than men with merchant ship experience, and therefore he considered militiamen more valuable than civilian seamen.

The assistant secretary emphasized the navy's need for battle cruisers.

"As this war probably will last two or three years and none of the ships we will authorize then would be completed, hadn't we better hold our horses?" asked Mr. Callaway.

"Not at all," Mr. Roosevelt replied. "These ships might be completed just at the psychological time. I am willing to admit that in the end of the war and exhaustion of the belligerents this country would cease to be exposed to possible danger."

Regarding submarines, the witness admitted the 1,200-ton fleet vessel was purely an experiment. Recommendations of Admiral Grant, commander of the submarine flotilla for the 800-ton type, he added, represented the general opinion of officers of the service, but not that of the department.

Mr. Roosevelt was against exclusive government manufacture of war munitions.

"I believe in government manufacture to a certain extent," he said. "But I don't think the government should manufacture everything it needs, to the exclusion of all private manufacturers at the present time. We may come to it some time."

New Naval Base Urged.

Establishment of a new and invulnerable naval base on Culebra Island, near Porto Rico, rather than at Guantanamo, Cuba, was said by Mr. Roosevelt to be needed.

"We believe the enemy probably would make an initial attack in the West Indies. We are vulnerable down there to a quick attack; more so than along the Atlantic coast. If an enemy came over here they would have to have some base. There are only three locations for bases, Canada or New Foundland, Bermuda or an island in the West Indies."

"JOY RIDERS" INJURED, BUT CAN'T BE FOUND

A five-passenger automobile containing two young men and women crashed into a telephone pole at the corner of Moreland and DeKalb avenues shortly after 11:30 o'clock last night. The occupants of the car, who evidently were slightly injured, boarded another automobile and disappeared.

It was thought at first that some of the occupants had sustained severe injuries as the Grady hospital ambulance was called to the scene of the accident.

At a late hour the police were unable to ascertain the identity of the parties.

ASSETS AND GREAT NEEDS OF ATLANTA STRESSED

what concerns us tonight," he said.

He then began a most scientific review of Atlanta's growth, showing its population at stated intervals. He compared Atlanta's average number of persons living in a dwelling, which is 5 1-10 to the borough of Manhattan, which is 30 1-10 persons to a dwelling, and said the city was blessed in this respect.

He then reviewed Atlanta's achievements of the past ten years amid the applause of the audience.

"During this period there has been established in Atlanta a spirit that makes Atlanta secure in the future," he said, amid the ringing applause of his audience. "The only criticism is that you have had to let an outsider come here to discover what you have really done."

Achievements of City.

Here are the achievements of Atlanta within the past ten years, as slated by Mr. Albert:

Playgrounds inaugurated, modern juvenile court established, adult probation introduced into police and state courts, medical inspection of schools established, two open-air schools opened, anti-tuberculosis association organized, tuberculosis hospital built, new Y. M. C. A. built, $3,000,000 from bonds expended for the extension of sewerage, the building of new schools, and a $100,000 annex to your hospital.

"Tolerated vice suppressed. No philosopher has ever assigned any reason why it should exist," said the speaker, amid ringing cheers from the audience.

Inauguration of a training school for social workers and public health nurses, comprehensive child welfare exhibit held, $20,000 auditorium built, public concerts inaugurated, $150,000 chamber of commerce building taken over, $300,000 for Southeastern fair, founded and raised $1,700,000 for Emory university, founded and raised $250,000 for Oglethorpe university, established crippled children's home, an intelligent crusade carried on for the eradication of flies and mosquito, parent-teachers' organization formed, reduction of number of children in school classes from 60 to 45, new courses of study instituted, vacation schools, ungraded schools started, and open-air schools.

Assets of the City.

He also stressed the assets of the city properties as being $23,894,772, over twice the average value of properties owned by cities of Atlanta's size. Under this head, though, he showed that Atlanta value of schools is $670,000 below the average of value of schools in cities of Atlanta's size, and declared this to be a great gulf between Atlanta's and the other cities.

He also pointed out that by $500,000 Atlanta's park were below the average.

Then he discussed the public debt, and showed the city's public debt of $4,292,607 was far below the average public debt of $9,000,000 for a city of Atlanta's size.

He said that Atlanta deserved greatest credit for having reduced within the past few years its infant mortality and its death rate from 20 in 1,000 persons to less than 15 to every 1,000 persons.

The greatest fault he found with the charities of the city was the dispensation annually of $30,000 by the city of Atlanta for charity in the nature of groceries given the poor. This money should not be distributed in this way, he pointed out, but put to helpful methods of aiding the poor. He urged the amalgamation of all charity organization in the city.

City Government Cost.

Under the head of "city government cost per capita," he gave the following information:

Atlanta $21.06
Average Class 3 .... 28.92

	Atlanta.	Oakland.	Average Class 3.
Police	$1.64	$1.01	$1.49
Fire	1.29	1.37	1.64
Health	.43	.13	.28
Sanitation	1.56	.85	1.22
Charities	.88	.04	.55
Schools	2.76	5.74	4.53
Libraries	.12	.48	.21
Recreation	.35	.81	.51
Expenses of Public service	1.20	.04	1.20
Interest	1.27	1.57	2.73

He pointed out from these figures that money is not saved from charity in Atlanta, but from education. Atlanta's per capita cost is $7.84 less than the average city of her size.

Under the head of schools, he pointed out that only one out of 80 school buildings in Atlanta was fireproof.

"Atlanta pays more attention to stock in stores than to the safety of its school children," he said.

Urges University High School.

He urged the abandonment of the summer vacation period, assembling of the four high schools under one management, increase in pay of teachers, and declared that a new equipment and reorganization was needed for the entire school department.

He urged the establishment of a university high school with ten courses, the cost of which should be $1,000,000. He urged that domestic science and manual training be installed in the public schools.

He was accorded the biggest applause of the evening when he declared that Atlanta should have a compulsory education law.

He urged more libraries, but complimented Atlanta on the number of books used per capita from the present libraries.

MORE TENNIS COURTS PLANNED FOR PARKS

Park gardeners are preparing grounds in the various parks for the early resumption of summer tennis. Tennis has proven one of the most popular of outdoor sports among the Atlanta athletes and by reason of the overcrowding of the courts last season additional courts are being constructed.

Of the new courts, Maddox park will have four, Adair one, Brisbane one, and Joyner one. Others are in contemplation by the park commission.

In addition to the seven new courts being prepared, the city has a total of 36 courts distributed as follows: Piedmont, 14; Grant, 12; Mims, 2; Howell, 1; Springvale, 1; Adair, 2; Oakland City, 3.

The park commission has also increased the zoo by the addition since January of one pair buffalo, five elks, fourteen new pheasants, five varieties; one pair Egyptian geese, two bear cubs, two Esquimo dogs, one American [illegible]ald eagle, one kangaroo and one pu[illegible].

CLYDE WORKERS CLASH WITH GREAT BRITAIN

Glasgow, March 29.—Yesterday's hope that the strike organized by the Clyde workers' committee would be settled was not fulfilled today. Large numbers of the men are still out and refuse to return to work unless the government liberates the leaders of the movement, who were placed under arrest for quitting work.

Uproarious scenes were enacted in the city hall tonight where a meeting of the strikers was held. The proceedings lasted four hours and the meeting broke up in disorder without the men having reached a decision concerning the resumption of work.

The local trades council discussed the Clyde strike today and passed a resolution against the action of the government in deporting several men from the district and demanding their return.

The Clyde district committee of the engineering unions has issued a manifesto urging the men to return to work immediately.

London, March 30.—The Central News says the government has highly sensational evidence concerning the situation on the Clyde and that unless the men immediately return to work the information will be made public.

Several of the Scotch members of the house of commons are preparing to visit Glasgow in an endeavor to adjust the situation.

"BLUE SKY" MEASURE PASSED BY MISSISSIPPI

Jackson, Miss., March 29.—A so-called "blue sky" bill which would regulate selling of stocks in Mississippi was passed by the state senate late today and sent to the governor for his signature. The bill would require any corporation offering stock for sale to show that the full amount of its capitalization was represented by actual paid-up stock. Stock sellers would be required to furnish affidavits that the company in which they offered shares had an actual paid-up capital, was in operation and engaged in a legitimate business. Penalties would be provided for violation of the provisions. The measure would become effective upon signature by the governor.

Charleston, W. Va., March 29.—John Aldright, a rural mail carrier in Logan county, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing ginseng from parcel post packages and replacing it with stones. He is ordered held under $5,000 bond by a United States commissioner.

Powder Plant Destroyed.

Uniontown, Pa., March 29.—The Oliphant plant of the du Pont Powder company, eight miles from here, was blown up by an explosion late this afternoon. Four men were injured, two seriously. No cause was assigned for the accident.

GERMANS DEBATING SUBMARINE WARFARE

Chancellor Makes a Report to Committee of the Reichstag.

Berlin, March 29.—(By Wireless)—A confidential report regarding the German government's submarine policy was given the main committee of the reichstag today by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

During yesterday's meeting of the reichstag's main committee, says the Overseas News agency, Admiral von Capelle, the new secretary of the admiralty, spoke further with regard to Germany's submarine war.

The progressives and liberals brought forward a resolution expresing complete confidence in the government and proposed to proceed to the order of the day without considering the proposition concerning the submarine war brought forward by the national liberals, conservatives and socialists. Another resolution was brought forward by the progressive liberals providing in case the proposition of the center party is accepted that the last sentence, "the liberty of use of the submarine weapon shall be reserved in the negotiations with foreign nations," shall be changed to read, "the liberty of the use of the submarine against German's enemies shall be reserved in actual and further negotiations."

Another resolution concerning the use of the submarine, it has been learned, has been presented to the reichstag by the radicals. It declares full confidence in the army and navy and their leaders, and moves that the national liberals, conservative and socialist resolutions be tabled.

The radicals also proposed an amendment to the closing sentence of the resolution of the center party to read "that in present and future negotiations freedom to use this weapon (the submarine) against our enemies shall be preserved."

ARMY INCREASE BILL CONSIDERED BY SENATE

Washington, March 29.—Consideration of the army increase bill, the first of the big national defense measures, began in the senate today with republicans joining the democrats in expressing the hope that it might be disposed of as quickly as possible.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, introduced the measure, which is a substitute for the Hay bill passed by the house, and made a lengthy address, explaining its provisions. When the bill had been read it was laid aside to permit senators to familiarize themselves with it. Tomorrow it will be called up for reading by sections to be kept constantly before the senate until passed. Senator Chamberlain announced he would ask for night session unless reasonable progress was made without them.

So far there has been no evidence of any serious opposition to the bill as a whole, though changes in certain features will be advocated. Senator Borah gave notice that he would fight the national guard provisions. He does not believe the national guard should be used as a basis for a reserve force and favors instead the provision for creation and the training of a volunteer force under supervision of federal army officers.

The chief aim of the senate substitute is to increase the peace strength of the regular standing army to 175,0[illegible] men. It also provides for a federal volunteer force of 261,000 men and the national guard of 280,000 which would be placed under federal control and participate in federal appropriations.

Criticism of the aviation equipment of the army was freely made during today's discussion and the recent experiences of the aviators in Mexico were cited as illustrations of the inefficiency of the equipment. Senator Chamberlain declared that congress was largely responsible for this condition because of the parsimonious policy in the face of insistence by department heads for large appropriations.

EXPERT EVIDENCE GIVEN ABOUT WINE OF CARDUI

Chicago, March 29.—Expert testimony as to the percentage of alcohol and the medicinal value of "Wine of Cardui" was continued at today's session of the $300,000 libel suit of John A. Patten and Z. C. Patten, Jr., of Chattanooga, manufacturers of the product, against the American Medical association.

Dr. Willis A. Hilpert, who until January 1, 1916, was an analytical chemist employed by the American Medical association, described his analysis of four bottles of "Wine of Cardui," while in the employ of the association, stating the liquid was twenty per cent alcohol. He said he swallowed five tablespoonfuls of it and it had no effect on him except that it tasted bitter.

Dr. William T. McAfee, assistant chemist of the Indiana state board of health, told his experience as an analyst of intoxicating liquors and compared them to the products of the Pattens.

Plaintiffs' attorneys objected to these comparisons, saying it was never claimed that the part of the articles published by the medical association which referred to the alcohol used was libelous. They contended that because of its value as a solvent and a preservative alcohol was a necessary ingredient of the medicine.

Ralph W. Webster, a chemist and instructor in a Chicago Medical college, testified that there was not sufficient cardus beneductus or viburnium trifolium in "Wine of Cardui" to be of medical value.

FIVE NITROGEN PLANTS FOR THE UNITED STATES

Washington, March 29.—The senate agricultural committee today ordered favorably reported the bill appropriating $15,000,000 for five nitrogen manufacturing plants for commercial and war purposes. The plants would be used in making fertilizer, producing dyes and manufacturing ammunition.

Counsel for E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. informed Secretary Baker at the war department today that his company stood ready to build a great hydro-electric plant for taking nitric acid from the air and to make its product available to the government for the manufacture of explosives at prices fixed by the secretary of war if congress would change existing water power laws so as to make such a project practicable. Mr. Baker was given a letter from Pierre S. Du Pont, president of the company, attaching a proposed bill to provide for fifty-year leases on water power sites in navigable streams. It was explained that the company contemplated constructing a plant costing $20,000,000 or more and capable of furnishing all the nitrates now imported from Chile. Secretary Baker tonight declined to say what would be his attitude toward the project.

THOMASON WILL GET CARROLLTON OFFICE

Washington, March 29.—(Special.)—Senator Hardwick announced today that the confirmation of J. T. Thomason, of Carrollton, as postmaster of that city may be expected within a few days. Mr. Thomason will resign as editor of The Carrollton Times and will be succeeded by his son, J. T. Thomason. Shortly after the announcement that Representative Adamson had nominated Mr. Thomason came reports that charges would be filed against him. These have not materialized, and the senate committee will act favorably.

The following appointments of rural carriers were announced today: Elmore Wheeler, Rockingham; H. A. Moore, Sylvania; Thelman W. Stewart, Americus, and Clifford Painton, Americus.

Wilsons at Red Cross Ball.

Washington, March 29.—President and Mrs. Wilson were the guests of honor tonight at a ball given here for the benefit of the American Red Cross, of which Mr. Wilson is president.

House Democrats Favor Armament Manufacture By the United States

Washington, March 29.—Advocates of government manufacture of ammunition and armament won their fight in the house democratic caucus tonight for a floor vote on their proposals. A resolution instructing the rules committee to report a rule making in order proposed government manufacture amendments to all preparedness bills was unanimously adopted.

Heretofore national defense measures have not been subject to amendment and government manufacture advocates fearing the bills would die in committee, sought a new method of getting their plan to a vote in the house.

Chairman Padgett, of the naval committee, assured the caucus that his committee would vote on the armor plate factory bill, already passed by the senate on next Tuesday.

Speaker Clark made a speech in favor of government manufacture "to such an extent as to regulate prices." His remarks were received with prolonged applause. Chairman Hay, of the military committee opposed the plan.

The resolution which was offered by Representative Garner, of Texas, follows:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this caucus that the rules committee should report a rule making in order amendments to the navy, army, fortifications and sundry civil bills having for their purpose provisions providing for the government manufacturing armaments and ammunition."

About 120 members, a bare majority of the democratic membership, were present. The caucus was called on the petition of fifty-three representatives.

WORLD'S EXPOSITION IN HONOR OF PILGRIMS

Boston, March 29.—An international exposition to be held in 1920 to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, was favored by the Pilgrim Tercentenary commission in a report filed with the legislature today. The members were of the opinion that a world's fair or exposition "merely or principally commercial and industrial in its character" would not be suitable, but were agreed that some form of an international exposition should be held, "which would bring together and especially emphasize the great achievements in science, education, religion, philosophy, music and all other arts of the past three hundred years."

The commission recommended several improvements to be made at Plymouth, including the erection of a permanent memorial, the removal of the canopy from Plymouth Rock and the lowering of the rock to its original bed.

QUADRUPLETS ARRIVE; FATHER ASKS A RAISE

Media, Pa., March 28.—William Pasco, a teamster, applied for a raise in pay from his employers giving as his reason the birth of quadruplets at his home. Three girls and a boy were born during the night and all are doing well. Twin boys were born to Mrs. Pasco eighteen months ago.

Strike Is Averted.

Chicago, March 29.—Possibility of a strike of 20,000 members of the Amalgamated Garment Workers' association, which was threatened May 1, was averted today when the Wholesale Clothing Dealers' association announced a reduction in working hours from 52 hours a week to 50, with no alteration in pay. This means that the workers will receive from two to four cents a garment increase.

"My scalp was perfectly covered with scales and when I would scratch my head it became so sore I could scarcely comb my hair. My scalp itched and burned till I couldn't sleep at night. I would comb my hair and my collar would be covered with dandruff.

"I didn't find any relief until I found Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would rub my scalp at night with Cuticura Ointment and wash it off the next morning with Cuticura Soap. SIX TIME SAVERS

When I was a lad of three years, I had a great many sores on my hands and legs. A friend suggested S. S. S. to my parents, and after using three bottles of S. S. S. obtained from our local drug store, I was entirely cured.

I have used S. S. S. as a tonic for the past fifteen years, and I want to take this opportunity of testifying as to its wonderful merits, and heartily recommend it, not only to everyone that is suffering from any blood trouble, but also to anyone wanting an effective tonic to build up a run-down system. It is a wonderful medicine and I feel that everyone should know about it.

Are You Aiding Nature to Work to Better Advantage?

Unless you lend a helping hand to Nature she will have an unfortunate end. Why shouldn't Nature keep up its constructive work? When the great strain we put on our systems—wrong eating—wrong drinking—wrong hours—is considered, the question instantly clears, and the imposition on Nature is seen. The result—blood disorders. Perhaps Rheumatism appears: or the weakened system contracts Catarrh in a violent form; or one of the many kinds of skin diseases, such as boils, pimples, rashes, eczema, etc., are the signals.

As surely as one of these conditions arises Nature is telling you that your vital life fluid is needing help. Fortunately you can turn to that wonderful blood remedy—S.S.S., as have thousands of other sufferers, and find Nature's greatest aid ready to give you health again. S. S. S. accomplishes for you what no other medicine can, because its ingredients are purely vegetable, extracted from native herbs, roots and barks. It has been known and recommended for over fifty years. S. S. S. goes directly to the blood, and assists it in its repair and constructive work. Get S. S. S. at your druggist.

BUT WHAT REMEDY?

In the published synopsis of Governor Harris' platform upon which he is seeking re-election, sent out from his office to the press of Georgia, there occurs the following statement with reference to lynching and mob law:

> The governor holds it to be of supreme importance that means should be found to suppress the wave of crime that has swept the state in the form of and by reason of lynchings. He proposes that conditions shall be remedied through legislation, education and Christianization.

As far as the governor goes he is absolutely right. But the trouble is—and we refer not only to the governor, but to every candidate for this office—he does not go far enough.

It is not sufficient to say that lynching and mob law are wrong and that some remedy should be found for them; but it is due the people of Georgia that both the candidates for governor, and that any prospective candidates, shall state in clear and unmistakable terms just what remedy or remedies they propose. It is not sufficient to say that legislation is needed; it is imperative to point out what kind of legislation will best bring the results. It is not sufficient to say that education should be applied as one of the remedies; it is necessary to go further and point out, whether by general local taxation for schools or other means, coupled with a compulsory system, universal education may be brought about.

With reference to legislation we have had numerous suggestions. Some of these urge the placing of responsibility upon the sheriff, and other county authorities, to the point that when a lynching takes place in a particular county, the sheriff shall be called upon to show cause before the governor why he should not be removed from office.

Other suggestions have insisted that reform in court procedure to the point of bringing about prompt trial and speedy punishment for unquestioned crime are imperative.

There are those who indorse both these plans, and there are also those who have offered the laws of South Carolina, where lynching has been reduced to a minimum.

Legislation of some kind along the general lines here indicated is essential to the elimination of the lynching evil. It does not undertake to say just what the details of these laws should be or exactly how far they should go; but it does believe that the candidates for governor of Georgia, not one, but all of them, should make it clear in their platforms as to just what legislation in their opinion should be enacted to meet this situation.

If the matter is permitted to stand upon vague and general statements about law enforcement and that sort of thing, it is practically certain that another year, or another three years, will find Georgia just where she is today.

REAL RURAL CREDITS.

The real rural credit system, to render substantial service, should have for its object the creation of more land owners and more home owners. The man who owns his own farm is seldom in need of long time credit, and what credit he needs he can usually get with comparative ease. It is the man who does not own his farm, but wants to own it, who should be taken care of by a competent system of rural credits.

Everybody who has given any thought to the problem realizes this fact, but the question has always been how to do it. South Carolina proposes and is considering an interesting plan, the details of which are presented in a communication from James T. Williams, published in The Constitution today. The South Carolina plan provides for a state rural credits system to sell farms to those who want them on a basis of annual payments extended over a period of 20 or 30 years just like life insurance. The land itself stands as security for the price of it, while it is proposed to protect the state against the death of the purchaser by a life insurance policy carried along with it.

The proposed South Carolina plan offers one of the most interesting suggestions in the direction of solution of the real rural credits problem which has yet come to light. The trouble about rural credits plans heretofore, and even now, is that those devising them have had too lofty ideas as to the required amount of security. Almost any farmer in good standing in his community can borrow fifty per cent of the value of his own land on reasonable terms, at any time he wants it. Proposed rural credits systems have never gone beyond this.

But if an effective rural credits plan is to be devised, it must come upon a more liberal basis to reach the non-landowner who wishes to acquire his farm home. The South Carolina plan is one way in which this problem might be worked out. There are others. Southern land values have uniformly held their own through panic, European war and everything else. Where the purchaser makes the first payment the risk involved is small. Should he step out or abscond, the payments so far as made would lapse and the land is there to be apportioned to the next comer on the same terms.

A rural credits problem upon some such basis as this is well worth the consideration of the states. While congress may adopt a rural credits bill, it is practically certain now it will not open the way for a landless man to become a landowner. The real important problem to the state is to encourage the acquirement of land and increase the number of farmers who own their own acreage.

It is as much a question of building the state as it is of lending somebody money to help him along. It will be well for law makers to think about it in that light.

ADOPTING GEORGIA LAW.

Evidence of the splendid qualities of the new Georgia tax equalization law continues to accumulate, particularly in the attention which it has attracted in other states, some of which are making it a fundamental basis of similar laws of their own.

Although the Georgia act has been on the statute books and in operation but little more than two years, it is the foundation of the present Alabama law recently enacted. Alabama officials, particularly members of the state board of equalization, are naturally therefore deeply interested in the operations of the Georgia law, and State Tax Commissioner John C. Hart has just received a letter from Chairman Thomas W. Sims, of the Alabama board, in which he states Commissioner Hart's second annual report will prove of material assistance in the work in Alabama, which is a year or more behind that in this state.

In concluding an extensive summary of Judge Hart's report, the Montgomery correspondent of The Birmingham Age-Herald said:

> What Judge Hart and his local boards of assessors have accomplished in Georgia through the operation of the equalization act, is the aim of the Alabama Board of Equalization and the several county boards. The Alabama law is so nearly similar to the Georgia statute that it was considered worth while to write a digest of Judge Hart's report.

What Alabama has done following Georgia, other states are now doing. The importance of replacing loose and inefficient systems of taxation with laws that are direct, general and systematic in their operation, has never been better demonstrated than in the wonderful results obtained under the new Georgia law.

The Constitution foresaw and felt the necessity for this law, not with a view to placing a greater tax burden upon any individual or set of property-owners, but that all should be made to pay alike and uniformly upon property of the same class and value.

Now that Georgia has this law after a struggle of years to get it, the whole state is more than ever impressed with its importance and value, for while it protects the state's revenue, it gives assurance of fairness and uniform treatment in the taxation of each individual who contributes to state support.

The Georgia law is not yet perfect. Notwithstanding this, when it put $85,000,000 of new property on to the tax digest in one year, and another year saved the state from going backward when other communities were recording heavy losses in returns, it cannot be too highly praised for the remarkable service which, under careful management, it has rendered the state.

Taxpayers throughout Georgia must commend a statute which can do this service, and which gives promise of ultimate establishment of that strict equality before the law in the matter of taxation, which is the aim of every well-regulated state.

We'll be inclined to pin our faith to prophecies of the end o' the war when Colonel House takes the lecture platform to tell what he knows about it.

Nothing funny about a congressman sending garden seeds. If he should cut 'em out his constituents would be asking: "What is he there for?"

Since the Mexican expedition is to cost over $8,000,000, Villa doubtless thinks he's giving us a run for our money.

Some people think that spring preparedness ends with a lawnmower and a first-class swearing vocabulary.

The Fish That Gets Away.

I.

I like to "play" the big fish
'Fore I land him on the sod,
To make him stir the ripples
While he bends my fishingrod!
But this life is so contrary,
I am saddest when I say:
When I've "played" him till I'm weary,
That's the fish that gets away!

II.

I've picked the place to land him,
Where the light the shade divides,
Where I'll see the broken sunbeams
Dance on his silver sides!
And my badge of "Ananias"
Shall be given up that day!—
(How these earthly troubles try us!

III.

For he's wiser than you deem him:
Why, he almost says to you:
"There's a proverb of the big fish:
He's the dream that 's never true;
So wind your fishing tackle
And go where Truth should stay,
And tell 'em: "He was — — that long!—
But the whopper got away!"

Final Compromise.

Man begins by wanting the earth; then, the silver of the sun and the gold of the moon and stars. Failing to get away with any of them, he contents himself with the prospect of a harp and a crown and rivers that flow with milk and honey.

But You Will!

I.

It's a life of hurry,
It's a struggle still,
And you "just won't worry!"—
But you will!
You will!
Won't the storm-clouds scurry
'Round the thunder-hill?
O you "just won't worry!"—
But you will!

II.

What's the fret—the flurry?
Care is keen to kill,
And you "just won't worry!"—
But you will!
You will!
For the troubles hurry,
And your cup they fill:
O you "just won't worry!"
But you will!

A Last Resort.

After looking over the situation, Bob Gonzales says, in The Columbia State:

"They have had a James Whitcomb Riley Day in Indiana, a Stanton Day in Georgia, and are thinking about a Judd Lewis Day in Texas, and as thus far we have heard no proposal of a Colonel Aftermath Day in South Carolina, we suppose we shall simply have to make a night of it."

Dr. Lee Congratulates Atlanta And Praises The Constitution For Success Emory Campaign

Editor Constitution: With all my heart I wish to congratulate the city of Atlanta upon what they have just completed, in the direction of making good their pledge of five hundred thousand dollars toward the endowment and equipment of Emory university.

The Constitution has rendered service of the highest order, in helping to bring this enterprise to a successful conclusion. This whole movement of establishing in the city of Atlanta a university of the highest class will go far to correct any wrong impression that may have found its way abroad concerning the character and intelligence of the leading people of our city and state. There are those in Georgia, who—along with citizens of the same level in other states—have caused good people to hang their heads in shame; but there is not any state in this union that has a larger number of first-class people in proportion to poulation than the state of Georgia.

Emory university will conserve the ideals cherished by our fathers in the days that are gone and will enrich and quicken and enlarge those ideals and hand them down to the generations of the future.

Nothing has been done in recent years in all the southern states that has sent such a thrill of delight to the hearts of all natives of our common section as the establishment of Emory university.

It must be a source of great joy to those immediately concerned with the enterprise to know that the city of Atlanta and the citizens of Georgia, and the people of all the south, are with them.

I am a Methodist minister, and occupy a financial level common to that honorable and noble class of men; and, because of this, I can add no large amount of money to the advancement of the institution. I gave, however, to the university, the best books I had in my library; and, if I had a million of dollars, I would be glad to give that.

ROME STREET RAILWAY INCREASES CAPITAL STOCK

The state railroad commission Wednesday authorized the Rome Railway and Light company, which is the street railway company of Rome, to issue $100,000 preferred stock, in addition to its present capital stock of $1,000,000, and additional bonds to be used for refunding, paying on the company's floating debt and for working capital. The secretary of state several days ago amended the charter of the company to provide for the addition to its capital stock.

"POLITICAL PEANUTS" NOT TREATED IN THIS REPORT

Assistant commissioner of agriculture has just completed the compilation of a departmental bulletin on the culture of peanuts in Georgia, which bulletin will be ready for the press as soon as Commissioner J. D. Price returns to his office and passes upon it.

This bulletin, says Mr. Clay, is a very comprehensive treatment of all matters pertaining to peanuts, except peanut politicians. Political peanuts, he declares, have the black root in his office.

"LITTLE CAP" JOYNER IS ABLE TO BE OUT AGAIN

"Little Cap" Joyner, clerk in the office of the state insurance commissioner, was able to be out of the hospital Wednesday for the first time since his recent illness. His friends are glad to know of his recovery.

SPEER SUGGESTS CHANGE IN TIME FOR MAKING REPORTS

State Treasurer W. J. Speer stated Wednesday that the report of the treasury for the fiscal year, ending December 31, 1915, will be out in a few days.

Under the state law, each department makes its report for the period ending December 31.

Treasurer Speer pointed out that some change should be made in the law so that the reports will be made nearer to the time for the convening of the legislature. Under present conditions the legislature will not meet until the reports are six months old, and, therefore, of no great practical value to the legislature. The date for making these reports was fixed as at present when the general assembly met early in the year. When the date of the assembling of the legislature was changed no change was made in the time for reports.

JUDGE BRYAN IS ALSO ENTITLED TO "DOCTOR BRYAN"

W. C. Bryan, of Douglas, in Coffee county, whom Governor Harris has named to succeed Judge Lankford, resigned, as judge of the city court of Douglas, is a man of considerable versatility. In addition to being a lawyer of high standing, having received the recommendation of the Douglas bar for the appointment, he holds a license to practice medicine in Georgia, although he has not followed this profession in a number of years.

South Carolina's Plan to Bring Together "Landless Man" and "Manless Land"

Editor Constitution: While the attention of congress has been diverted from the question of rural credits to "preparedness," Mexico, etc., a few individuals have been considering the practicability of a system of rural credits operated by the different states.

At the last session of the legislature of South Carolina four bills, differing slightly in the manner of operation, but in the main providing a system whereby farmers could borrow money at low rates of interest and on long terms of payment, were introduced and excited as much interest as any measures coming before the legislature at that session. The matter was placed in the hands of a commission for investigation, with instructions to formulate a rural credits system for South Carolina and report at the next session of the legislature.

Three of the bills restricted advances to 60 to 65 per cent of the value of the security pledged, and, of course, they limited their availibility to that class of farmers who already own land.

The fourth bill had in its many provisions a means, as was stated by its author, of bringing the "landless man to the manless land." It would create a land commission, composed of the governor, comptroller general, commissioner of agriculture, insurance commissioner and land commissioner, who would pass upon all applications for loans. The idea of having the commission composed of these state officers was to prevent the land getting into the hands of negro farmers.

The system incorporated in this bill is the holding of the title of the land by the state and a sale on bond for title co-ordinating with the ordinary endowment policy of life insurance based on the American tables of mortality, with annual payments over a period of thirty years, the payments to be made each year in advance. It incorporated all the safeguards and machinery for application, appraisement, etc., used by the association of life insurance presidents in the allowance of loans on real estate, both city and country; in fact, the state insurance commissioner approved of the principle in its entirety.

A simple instance of its operation: Assuming that a farmer twenty-five years of age wanted to buy from the state fifty acres of land of the value of $20 per acre—$1,000. His application would be made (on a prescribed form) under oath and supported by the independent appraisement of at least two freeholders. The land commission would then have it appraised by their agent. The whole then being passed upon by the land commission, and if approved a land warrant would be issued to the applicant incorporating the features of a bond for title and an endowment policy for life insurance maturing in thirty years, conditioned upon the payment in advance of an annual installment of first, interest at 5 per cent, $50; second, insurance premium, $31.80, and, third, reserve of 1 per cent, $10, a total of $91.80, or 9.18 per cent on the cost of the land. The applicant would have to occupy the land as a homestead.

In the event of total disability or death, the insurance policy would immediately liquidate the entire indebtedness and leave his family an unencumbered inheritance in the land. Thus for the annual payment of $91.80 any man desiring a farm of the value of $1,000 could procure it.

The working capital with which to carry on this system under the terms of the bill, is to be derived from the issuance of bonds not exceeding twenty million dollars, in series of five hundred thousand dollars each, guaranteed in principal and interest by the state of South Carolina, said series to be in four equal aggregate amounts in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000, interest payable semi-annually, and the principal payable thirty years from respective dates of each issue.

Of course, the annual payments on the loans go into a fund for paying off the principal and interest of the bonds.

In view of the fact that there is so much partially developed, and in many cases totally undeveloped, land in Georgia, and that it is desirable to make the land renter a land owner, would it not be well for those interested in farm loans to consider some system conducted by the state of Georgia similar to the South Carolina plan? Considering the large negro population, would not a state rural credits system, in many instances, be more desirable than one conducted by the national government?

Is it not time for Georgia to devise a plan for putting the "landless man on the manless land?"

FOUR COUNTY BOARD CANDIDATES FAVOR UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL; ONE INCLINED TO FAVOR, ONE SILENT

Of the six candidates for county commissioner, four have placed themselves squarely on record in favor of a great step forward in the matter of education, to take form in the establishing of a comprehensive, co-ordinated university high school system and in which Fulton county and the city of Atlanta would co-operate.

Lee Barnes and William J. Stoddard have taken the same stand as C. D. Knight and W. M. Poole, as expressed in letters previously published in The Constitution, in unequivocally favoring the university high school plan; F. A. Pittman says positively that he is not against it, rather, is for it, but wants more light; Charles G. Turner refuses to commit himself either way or to any extent.

"I think those fellows are going it blind," said Mr. Pittman, referring to the candidates who had declared their stand in favor of the plan. "I am free to say that I do not understand it yet—have not studied it sufficiently to be able to feel competent to say positively whether I am for the plan or not, neither do I think the other candidates have. I intend, though, to go into it fully, so that whatever I say or do with regard to the subject will be said or done with full knowledge of it.

"I Want More Light."

"I will say, however, that if elected commissioner, I will be guilded largely by the board of education and the county school commission. I want to think the thing all out. I certainly am not against the plan, as I have seen it advocated in The Constitution; rather, I am for it. But I want more light."

Lee Barnes said:

"Press of other matters is the only thing that has kept me from addressing a card to The Constitution before now, in which I would place myself on record in your columns as most enthusiastically endorsing every word that The Constitution has said on the subject of a co-ordinated university high school system. Since I have been tardy in the matter of writing my views to you, you are at liberty to quote me just as fully as you please to as being in favor of a system of higher public education.

"I believe this movement for a university high school is one of deep interest to every citizen of the county. This school should be the capstone of the common school system of both county and city, constructed and operated by both, and the plant should be one of which both city and county should be proud. If elected to the county board, I will do everything in my power to that end."

Stoddard Favors Plan.

"If I have a hobby and an ideal, it is the higher education of our boys and girls," said W. J. Stoddard. "The advancement of the youth of our country means better government, better business, better morals and better people and general prosperity. Without education a man must progress slowly. With education he has every advantage. So education to me seems to be a business proposition. I was denied the advantage of a college education because I was compelled to go to work when a boy. Realizing the advantages that accrue from higher education, I have in the past done everything possible to assist both young men and young women to secure that which was denied me.

"I am heartily in favor of the proposed university high school, and intend to bend every energy that I possess in an effort to see that it is built just as soon as work can be started. With our children educated, the solution of other problems will follow.

"From the very inception of the university high school idea, I advocated it. At that time I had no thought of seeking the votes of the public for any office. I favored it because I felt it was an excellent proposition and I am just as heartily in sympathy with it now as then. I am an advocate of good roads, but I am for education first. Good roads will follow.

"It gives me great pleasure to say that should the people of Fulton county honor me, as I hope they will, by electing me to the board of county commissioners that I will do all that is possible for the university high school."

Will Support Plan.

In its issue of Saturday, March 25, The Constitution published a letter written by C. D. Knight, candidate for county commissioner, in which Mr. Knight declared himself positively in favor of the university high school plan.

"I fully recognize the desirability and, in fact, the necessity of a university high school, the advantages of which shall be extended alike to pupils from the city of Atlanta and the country districts of the county," said Mr. Knight in his letter. "This school should be centrally located as near as possible and upon spacious grounds, with modern buildings erected to accommodate the present demands that will be made upon it, and easily susceptible of enlargement to meet future demands incident to the growth of population. This school should be erected and maintained jointly by the county and municipal authorities of the city of Atlanta, and its educational advantages and privileges should be extended 'without money and without price' alike to pupils from any and all sections of Fulton county."

In The Constitution of Wednesday, March 29, W. M. Poole, also a candidate for county commissioner, said in a letter to this newspaper:

"Allow me to state that as a candidate for county commissioner, I advocated even before your recent suggestion, that not only our county school system should be brought up to the very highest efficiency possible, but that the county should co-operate with the city in erecting and maintaining a higher university of learning than at present we possess. In my platform, printed in the public press, I advocated this, and promised to work to this end if elected. There is no higher duty that can claim the attention and service of either private individuals or those who hold legislative positions than that of seeing that our children are furnished every advantage for securing a thorough and complete education."

ENTERTAINMENT PLANS COMPLETED FOR BIG COTTON MEN'S MEETING

Final arrangements were made yesterday by the general entertainment committee for the handling of the big convention of American Cotton Manufacturers, to be held in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

It was announced that the convention will bring to Atlanta 750 visitors from all over the south, New England and the central states, added to which delegation will be about 350 affiliated Atlantans.

The convention will open Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, with an address of welcome by Mayor J. G. Woodward, and a response on behalf of the visitors by Scott Maxwell, president of the association.

At 1:15 p. m. Tuesday, the convention will adjourn to the Druid Hills golf club, where an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue will be enjoyed, this feature to be under the charge of Charles P. King.

The ladies will be entertained while in the city by a committee of which Mrs. Charles P. King is chairman, and Tuesday forenoon, at 11:15 o'clock, they will leave the Piedmont hotel by autos for a tour of the city, the tour to end at the Druid Hills golf club, there to be joined later in the day by the convention delegates.

Assisting throughout the two days' entertainment will be a committee comprising F. J. Paxon, of the chamber of commerce; Allen F. Johnson, of the reception committee of the local cotton manufacturers, and Fred Houser, chairman of the committee on transportation.

Mr. Houser is desirous of procuring as many automobile owners as possible to lend their cars for the transportation of guests to Druid Hills on Tuesday.

The chief social event of the convention will be a buffet supper and dance at the Piedmont Driving club, Tuesday evening. The committee in charge of that affair is composed of Frank M. Inman, James E. Hickey, Lee M. Jordan, R. E. Barnwell and Preston S. Arkwright.

E. Chappell has been made chairman of the greeters' committee, and those making arrangements for the convention have thought it advisable to meet all incoming trains Monday and Tuesday with automobiles and to convey the delegates and visitors as fast as they arrive directly to their hotels. Mr. Chappell is especially desirous that all members of the reception committee get into communication with him to confer upon this matter.

Through the courtesy of the Buick automobile company, a seven-passenger Buick car has been tendered free for the use of President Scott Maxwell during the entire time he is in the city.

L. L. Arnold, George B. McCutcheon, local manager for the Buick company; Allen F. Johnson and Fred Houser will compose a committee to drive to the station in the president's car, meet Mr. Maxwell when he arrives in the city, and formally present the handsome new automobile to him.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS HERE FOR THEIR BIENNIAL SESSION

The biennial session of the Southeastern Union conference of Seventh-Day Adventists convened in Atlanta yesterday. The session will be held in the Seventh-Day Adventist church, located at 507 East Fair street.

The territory of the Southeastern Union conference is composed of the states of Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina and east Tennessee. Fifty-eight delegates reported at the first meeting from the following towns in the states named: Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Johnson City and Graysville, Tenn.; Greensboro, New Bern, Wilmington, Wilson and Asheville, N. C.; Greenville, Spartanburg, Columbia and Charleston, S. C.; Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami, Orlando, Palm Beach, Tallahassee, Ft. Myers, Cocoa and Gainesville, Fla.; Atlanta, Brunswick, Fitzgerald and Gainesville, Ga.

Rev. I. H. Evans, president of the general organization of the denomination, known as the North American division, and Rev. G. B. Thompson, secretary of the North American Division conference; Professor Frederick Griggs, educational secretary, and Rev. W. W. Eastman, secretary of the publishing department, of Washington, D. C., have also arrived to attend the meeting.

There will be a session each day, opening at 8:45 with Bible study and devotional exercises. The meeting will continue with brief intermissions until 12. The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 and continue until 5:00. There will be preaching service every night at 7:30.

Wednesday night, March 29, Dr. Thompson, of Washington, D. C., will preach at the church.

The session will continue until April 5, and during this time it is expected that the constitution of the organization will be changed so that hereafter the sessions will be quadrennial instead of biennial. Officers will be elected to serve the conference during the next quadrennial period, and plans for the conduct of the work of the Southeastern Union conference will be devised.

GIRLS.

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

This essay will treat of girls before they have put down their dolls, and put up their hair, and have become haughty young princesses who prefer men to sidewalks for walking purposes.

Little girls are not as exciting as little boys, nor as fatal to furniture or cats. A little girl with two pig tails and her dresses still ending at her knees is nicer to have around the house than a pianola. Compared with a little boy a little girl is a wax statue in the midst of a riot, or an evening hymn in an early Kansas cyclone.

Little girls do not black each other's eyes, or start bonfires in the attic, or let the wind out of stray automobiles, or pour water in the graphophone, or put frogs in the bread box, or fall off the porch roof and dent the nice new cement walk, or shoot holes in other people's windows, or dig coal mines in the garden, or peel willow twigs with a razor, or tie roller skates to the Scotch collie's feet, or spend three hours and a half in bringing home a loaf of bread for breakfast, or play football in new trousers, or seine for minnows with their straw hats, or come to dinner with yesterday's dirt on their faces, or explode fire-crackers in the washing machine, or raise garter snakes in the cellar and pigeons in the attic.

Perhaps you may think this essay is devoted too much to the things that little girls do not do. But this is their most lovable trait. The little girl is adorable because of the things she doesn't do, but would have done if she had been a boy. Fathers of little girls are distinguished by their smiling faces and smoothly ironed brows.

What little girls do do is neither important or exciting. They raise large families of dolls, and learn many useful household tricks which most of them forget later on. Large numbers of them are encouraged to annoy the piano, but their parents must be blamed for that. Little girls are chiefly useful to make little boys ashamed when they see their clean hands and faces, and listen to their good grammar. Little girls are usually afraid of boys, but get over this very pluckily and successfully later in life.

RIPPLING RHYMES

RED PAINT

Red paint is pretty as pickled beets; of rich red paint let the poets sing! Red paint is good for the rustic seats, and excellent for the garden swing. We put red paint on the barn and fence, and know full well it will hold them down; red paint is good—but there is no sense in using it on the sleeping town. Red paint is wholesome and safe and sane, I sing its worth on the stage and stump; it's a splendid thing for the weathervane, and fine as silk for the cistern pump. It can be used when you'd decorate the stable roof or the kitchen floor; oh, put three coats on the wicket gate, and spread it thick on the henhouse door. It's earned the praises of tongue and pen, it is far better than green or brown; it is a boon to the sons of men—but it's no good for the sleeping town.

BIG MOVIE SHOW WILL OPEN TODAY

All But 100 Entrants in the Beauty Contest Will Be Eliminated Before Night of Grand Ball.

The south's first big moving picture exposition will begin this afternoon when the doors are thrown open at 2 o'clock at the Auditorium-Armory.

Hundreds of exhibitors to the Southern Motion Picture Trades exhibition are arriving in the city from every part of the south, and the attendance figures are expected to exceed those of any commercial convention of recent years.

The exposition will last three days. Saturday will be the biggest day. The grand closing ball and selection of the winner of the Universal beauty contest will take place on that night.

Movie Stars Coming.

The ball will be an elaborate affair. Many celebrated movie stars will be in attendance, including Hazel Dawn, Irving Cummings, Richard Garrick, Marguerite Courtot, King Baggot and a number of others.

Irving Cummings will lead the ball in company with the winner of the Universal contest.

Today's program consists of the formal opening at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the inspection of exhibits. Mayor James G. Woodward will deliver the opening address tonight at 8 o'clock, his speech being followed by a grand symphony concert on a $10,000 orchestral organ.

Dancing will be held each night of the exposition.

The banquet to be held Friday night at the Hotel Ansley for exhibitors, moving picture players, exchange men and friends, will be one of the most auspicious events of the week.

Only 100 Entrants.

Because of the deluge of photographs of entrants that has swamped the headquarters of the beauty contest, all but 100 entrants will be eliminated. One of this number will be awarded a year's contract with the Universal Film studios, and will be given her transportation to New York for immediate work in pictures.

Final arrangements for the awarding of the prize at the ball Saturday night are announced by William Oldknow, manager of the Atlanta Universal offices, in the following statement:

"On account of the overwhelming number of entrants in the beauty contest, the contest managers have been compelled to eliminate all but 100 of the contestants in order to facilitate the process of selecting the prize winner on the night of the ball. All out-of-town entrants will be positively taken care of.

"The elimination is being performed by a committee of disinterested men personally selected by the contest managers. The 100 who remain in the contest will be informed by mail in ample time to prepare for presentation to the judges on the night of the ball.

"The Universal company will have a special booth in the Auditorium to assemble the 100 remaining entrants. There will be no ostentatious parade or show about the awarding of the night's prize. Seventy-five contestants will be eliminated by the committee of judges, composed of J. D. Gortatowsky, John R. Cohen, Dudley Glass, Frederick Thompson and Richard Garrick, and the remaining twenty-five submitted for final review.

"The last remaining twenty-five will be given badges, and not until the award-winning contestant has been selected will anyone be presented to the audience. Each contestant will be introduced formally to the judiciary committee."

OFFICIALS OF POSTAL HERE FOR INSPECTION

Upon a tour of inspection of the offices and lines of the Postal Telegraph company in the south, Edward Reynolds, vice president of the company, and J. F. Skirrow, electrical engineer, spent yesterday in Atlanta looking over the local situation.

While here they are registered at the Piedmont hotel and are being entertained by G. H. Usher, general superintendent of the southern division of the Postal company.

Mr. Reynolds stated that business conditions generally are good, and that his company is sharing in this prosperity to such an extent that its business is increasing steadily and rapidly. Mr. Reynolds is particularly pleased with the success which the recently inaugurated long distance telephone service of the company has met. This service, he says, has met with such patronage that it has been necessary to enlarge the service in some centers.

EMBARGO IS PROPOSED ON GASOLINE EXPORTS

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 29.—(Special.)—A "national scandal" is what Representative William Schley Howard called the action of crude oil refiners in advancing the price of gasoline to the point where it is predicted the government will have to pay forty cents a gallon for its supply next year.

Mr. Howard offered in the house today his bill to place an embargo on gasoline shipments, as was exclusively foretold in today's Constitution. It has aroused the greatest interest throughout the country. Mr. Howard expects to go after the oil barons if he can secure a hearing before a house committee on his bill.

What Refiners Say.

The refiners, in justification of the advance, say there has been a tremendous increase in the export trade to warring nations, and a decrease in the production of crude oil.

Both statements are positively denied by Representative Howard and he indicated strongly that the forthcoming statement of the federal trade commission, which is investigating the gasoline situation, would prove it.

"The exportation has not increased, but has actually decreased, according to the figures of the department of commerce," asserted Mr. Howard. "The government reports show exportations in 1913 of 117,728,000 barrels; 1914, of 162,669,000, and in 1915 of 112,560,000 the lowest for the last three years. Furthermore, the production of crude petroleum was twenty per cent greater last year than the year before, and the stocks on hand January 1 last were the largest in the history of the oil industry. Yet despite all these factors, prices are constantly advancing. The bill I have introduced is the only constitutional and effective course to pursue," he continued, "to secure quick, positive and remedial legislation."

Howard Discusses His Bill.

In a statement accompanying his bill for an embargo on gasoline, Congressman Howard said: "Crude petroleum is one of the great natural products of our nation; one of it by-products—gasoline—is universally used, and science has not yet discovered an economical substitute for it. A restriction of its use by the exaction of exorbitant prices will affect hundreds of thousands of our people in every walk of life. The gas engine is a great dynamic force in our agricultural, industrial, commercial and social activities.

"No one in congress, in either branch, desires to interfere with or impede the great prosperity with which this nation is blessed, so long as that prosperity is derived from legitimate profits, but the continual rise in the price of gasoline, arbitrarily fixed by the refineries, has not only reached the limit of endurance, but it is becoming a national scandal.

"The legislation I have asked for to meet this situation has been enacted fourteen times by congress and approved by four of the great presidents of the United States.

Situation Demands Action.

"The discretion this bill gives to the president to lift the embargo when the price of gasoline is fairly fixed has been declared constitutional by the supreme court in a long line of decisions, as late as the case of Field vs. Clark, 143 U. S., in discussing the constitutionality of a clause in the McKinley tariff act.

"The bill may seem drastic, but the situation demands such action. If the people do not demand the immediate passage of this bill you may look for 40-cent gasoline by June 1.

"There is no need for any further investigation. Reliable information in abundance has been gathered. Action is what is wanted and needed, and the people have a perfect right to ask their government to conserve for their use and benefit one of the great resources of their country that has been gobbled up by an association of refiners who have proven themselves to be conscienceless as well as unpatriotic."

witness a performance of the show in order to see whether or not a case should be made.

He further stated that there were three things which he had thought were not exactly right, and then enumerated and described those things.

Outside of that the officer stated that the performance was all right and did not warrant in his judgment, the making of a case against any but the proprietor of the theater, whom he had placed on notice about them.

Roberts Defends Show.

Manager Roberts, of the Roberts Machine works, of East Point, was next placed on the stand by the defense. Mr. Roberts claimed that he had visited the performance, running at the Bijou, the week in question and had found not the slightest thing in the show which would prove objectionable to anyone.

Mr. Roberts stated that he had witnessed the "Hoochie Coochie" dance in cities all over the country, under all kinds of conditions, even stating that he had seen one performance of the celebrated dance, with a preacher as his companion.

"There was no 'Hoochie Coochie' about that dance, Judge," stated Mr. Roberts, "and no one thought that there was. Anybody with a vulgar mind can make that out of it if they want to, though." The Hoochie Coochie" could even be made a sacred dance, so far as that is concerned.

R. C. Turner, city electrician, next testified that the features presented at the Bijou theater had been offered at all the theaters of Atlanta at different times and had not been found objectionable.

"I know Mr. McMillan," stated Mr. Turner, "and I know that he does not allow anything like they say to go on in his theater. I have heard him caution his actors against allowing anything the least bit suggestive in a performance."

"Nothing Objectionable."

Other witnesses were introduced by the defense, all stating that there had been nothing objectionable in the performance. Among that number were two police officers, Powers and Laseter, who work Marietta and adjacent streets on the evening watch.

At the conclusion of all the testimony, Recorder Johnson announced his intention of fining McMillan, stating that the evidence showed there had been indency in the show.

"I want to say this much," said the judge, "There were some things at the Bijou which were offered at the old Columbia theater. I am not going to order this show closed, but I am going to fine this man. It is the duty of the chief of police to investigate these places and see whether or not they are violating the law.

Markwood did not appear for trial, but will be brought before the court at a later date to answer to disorderly conduct charges.

TRIPLE COLLISION; 30 DEAD, 40 INJURED

Cleveland, Ohio, March 29.—Federal and state investigations were begun tonight into the wreck on the New York Central at Amherst, Ohio, early today when two sections of the Chicago-Pittsburg Limited came together in a rear-end collision, killing at least thirty persons and injuring forty or more. The Twentieth Century Limited, traveling westward, crashed into the wreckage.

The accident, which occurred before daylight, was one of the most disastrous in the history of the New York Central road. The two sections of the Chicago-Pittsburg limited, No. 86, are said to have been proceeding eastward at a rapid rate when the second section crashed into the first, strewing the wreckage over a wide area.

Twentieth Century Hits Debris.

The Twentieth Century Limited, proceeding in an opposite direction on a parallel track, plowed into the debris. The heavy coaches and engines of No. 86 were toppled over and the tangled steel and wood-work was piled thirty feet in the air. Two cars of the Chicago-Pittsburg train were completely demolished and fourteen were overturned.

All of the casualties were on No. 86. The Twentieth Century, notwithstanding its heavy impact with the wreckage, emerged almost unscathed and proceeded on its journey, its passengers suffering only a severe shaking up.

A heavy fog from Lake Erie had settled down over northern Ohio and the night was of almost inky darkness. Many of the injured, pinioned in the wreckage, called piteously for help. Uninjured passengers, half clad, emerged from the sleepers and joined with the trainmen and others in rescue work. Some of the wreckage caught fire and brought the first rays of light on the scene. Firemen from Amherst finally quenched the flames, which were in the coach where most of the fatalities occurred.

Victims Badly Mangled.

Hospital trains were run from Cleveland, Elyria and Loraine and hundreds of villagers and farmers from Amherst and vicinity helped in the work of rescue. The little morgue at Amherst was quickly filled, but other buildings were made available for the dead, most of them mangled beyond recognition and some of them so far that identification may never be established.

Private homes also were thrown open and many were utilized pending removal of the injured to Elyria and Loraine hospitals. These institutions tonight were filled with injured and it was generally believed the death list would be increased.

The cause of the wreck was in doubt tonight. One of the theories was that a block signal, set suddenly and without warning, stopped the first section of No. 86, with the second section following closely in the next block. W. L. Schaff, district superintendent of the New York Central, said that the block system had been tested this morning and found working perfectly. "The explanation," he said, "lies between the engineers and the block signal system."

List of the Dead.

PASSENGERS TELL OF CATASTROPHE.

Chicago, March 29.—Passengers on the Twentieth Century limited who escaped injury despite the fact that their train plowed through the wreckage of the two sections of the eastbound train at high speed, told of the catastrophe on arriving in Chicago today. There was no panic on the limited, the passengers said.

Mrs. Robert S. Hotz, wife of a wealthy Chicagoan, who had recently taken a course in war nursing, directed the first aid work. She sent for anesthetics, ordered the tearing up of sheets for bandages and even ripped up her own underskirt for the purpose of stanching the flow of blood from the wounds of the victims.

B. E. Sunny, president of the Chicago Telephone company, was in the middle of the first sleeping car behind the locomotive of the limited.

"Everybody dressed in a hurry," Mr. Sunny said, "and ran out to see what was the matter. The locomotive of our train lay on its side. Two baggage cars had also toppled over. The buffet car and the sleeping car in which I rode had left the track and listed to a dangerous angle. All around were piles of wreckage from which wounded and dead were taken as fast as possible."

Dolores Rose and Hebe Vasselier bound for Chicago to take part in a fashion fete for the benefit of war orphans of the allies, assisted in the rescue work. Two persons expired almost in the arms of Miss Vasselier.

Henry P. Runkle, director of the German-Austro-Hungarian Relief society, attributed the escape of those aboard the Twentieth Century limited to the speed of the train, carrying it through the wreckage before the cars had time to tip over.

Daniel C. Sheehan, of Lynn, Mass., said that after the crash awakened him he heard a woman moan and helped extricate her. He was told later that she had become a mother a half hour after the collision and was in a critical condition.

REPORTED DEAD, HEARN IS ALIVE.

Gallipolis, Ohio March 29.—Relatives of J. H. Hearn, reported killed today in the wreck at Amherst, Ohio, tonight received a telegram signed by Hearn from Mount Clemens, Mich., saying that he is alive and well. Hearn stated that the finding of his card among the belongings of one of the wreck victims probably accounted for the appearance of his name in the death list.

INCREASED EARNINGS FOR WESTERN UNION

New York, March 29.—The annual report of the Western Union Telegraph company for the year ended on December 31, 1915, made public today, shows earnings equivalent to 10.19 per cent on the capital stock as compared with 5.38 per cent earned the preceding year.

Total earnings were $51,171,795, out of which $10,199,254 was saved as net, these figures representing increases of $4,907,019 and $4,513,228, respectively, over 1914. The final balance for the year, after payment of dividends and other deductions, was $5,351,047, while total surplus aggregated $18,882,967.

President Newcomb Carlton says in his report:

"At the close of the year the company had 209,854 miles of pole line, 933,603 miles of iron wire, 649,990 miles of copper wire and 2,965 miles of land line cables. There were 25,142 offices under operation. Over $550,000 was expended during the year in increasing the efficiency of cable transmission.

"At the close of the fiscal year the company had 18,616 stockholders, an increase over last year of 3,087, or 19.87 per cent."

UNWISE LEGISLATION AFFLICTING COUNTRY

George W. Simmons Tells Real Estate Men—Urges Business Men to Go Into Politics.

New Orleans, March 29.—A feature of the session of the convention of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges, here late today, was the contest among the delegates for the silver trophy cup donated by the Chicago Real Estate board for the best five-minute talk on individual cities. This contest is one of the interesting annual events of the real estate men's conventions and speakers from about twenty different cities participated. The judges' decision and award will be announced before adjournment Friday.

A dinner conference on "sub-divisions" led by Henry P. Haas, Pittsburg; Charles C. George, Omaha, and Guy M. Rush, Los Angeles, and an entertainment styled "A Night in Dixie," given for the delegates tonight, concluded the convention program for the day.

Simmons Scores Certain Laws.

Among the features of the late afternoon session was an address on "Public Opinion" by George W. Simmons, of St. Louis. He deprecated indiscriminate attacks upon corporations, criticized the policy of the interstate commerce commission, and certain legislation affecting business, including the federal trade commission law, the Sherman anti-trust law and the seaman's act, and appealed to business men of the nation to take an active part in the political affairs of their communities and states.

Mr. Simmons referred to the anti-corporation attacks of several years ago, which he said so influenced public opinion that the people seemed to forget "big business" had any rights which ought to be respected. "However," he said, "all thinking men today admit much benefit accrued to the country from the reform movement which turned us aside from our undemocratic tendency and helped establish a new and more thoroughly American code of business ethics. But the question now arises: 'Have we overdone it?' Today we are enacting thousands of new laws annually which is perhaps the natural result of sending to our law factories such a large percentage of lawyers to manage the country's affairs. It is only natural they should make laws like the Sherman law, which converts the progress of business into a crime; which is strictly a lawyers' law—conceived, framed and enacted by lawyers so that a plain business man can not tell how to conduct his business without paying a big fee to a lawyer to tell him and then likely he is wrong.

Progressing Backwards.

"The seaman's act is a striking illustration of theoretical, impractical legislation. . . . The federal trade commission law is another example of the kind of legislation which indicates that we may be progressing backwards. This act tells us we must avoid 'unfair competition,' yet gives no hint or rule as to what unfair competition is, leaving that to the determination of the individuals who compose the commission."

Mr. Simmons disclaimed any intention to reflect upon the individual members of the present trade commission, but, on the contrary, praised their work as an assistance to the business of the country. Continuing, he said:

"The country is suffering today from the policy of the interstate commerce commission, which has denied to the railroads the privilege of earning a fair compensation for service performed under existing conditions. As the government has chosen to have its railroads privately owned, it is its duty to take under its protection, as well as control, all railroads doing interstate business and administer that protection, first, by removing them from the 48 state masters that they now serve, and, second, by seeing they receive a fair price for transportation."

He declared the government has not always shown a good example of the business integrity and fair dealing which it requires of private business, and he urged that business men take an active part in law making.

BROUGH IS LEADING IN ARKANSAS PRIMARY

Little Rock, Ark., March 29.—Unofficial returns received up to midnight from today's democratic primary gave Dr. Charles H. Brough, of Fayetteville, a lead of approximately 1,500 votes over Judge L. C. Smith, of Dewitt, in the contest for the nomination for governor. Judge Smith, in turn, had a slight lead over Earle W. Hodges, of Little Rock, the other candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

It was estimated, however, that not more than one-tenth of the vote cast had been reported at midnight.

For congressional nominations, Thomas Campbell, of Pocohontas, was leading Representative W. A. Oldfield in the second district; Representative Otis Wingo had a good lead over his opponent, John B. Davis, in the Fourth; Representative Samuel Taylor was leading his two opponents in the Sixth and in the Seventh district, Representative W. A. Goodwin had a substantial lead over four opponents. The other three Arkansas congressmen were not opposed.

Returns received up to midnight in the contest for national committeeman and other state offices were negligible.

EMBALMER IS SOUGHT AS WAITE'S ACCOMPLICE

Accused Dentist Says He Paid Embalmer to Aid in Concealing Crime.

New York, March 29.—District Attorney Swann centered his efforts tonight upon locating Eugene Oliver Kane, who embalmed the body of John E. Peck, wealthy Grand Rapids druggist, for whose murder his son-in-law, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, is under arrest here. Kane's arrest has been ordered on the charge of conspiring to commit a crime.

Waite is said by Mr. Swann to have declared that Kane accepted $9,000 in cash and a check for $9,400 as part payment of $25,000 he was to be paid for swearing he used arsenic in embalming Peck's body. This arrangement Waite said, according to the district attorney, was made after an autopsy on Peck's body disclosed a large quantity of arsenic. Waite is said to have confessed not only to poisoning Peck, but placing germs of virulent diseases in the food of Mrs. Peck, who died at Waite's apartments six weeks before her husband.

Undertaker Makes Denial.

John S. Potter, the undertaker who had charge of Peck's funeral and who employed Kane as embalmer, was examined tonight at the district attorney's office. Potter reiterated denials that he had any part in the alleged negotiations between Kane and Waite. He did admit, however, that he received a letter from Waite asking him and Kane not to telephone him as Waite believed his telephone wire had been tapped and also telling him he need not worry about his check.

Kane embalmed the body of Mrs. Katherine Adams in the famous Molineux case and Potter was the undertaker who attended to the body of William M. Rice, for whose death Albert T. Patrick was tried.

Ineffectual efforts were made by Mrs. Margaret Weaver Horton, Waite's friend, who has been closely questioned by the district attorney, to obtain permission to visit Waite at Bellevue hospital. Her attorney, Harold Spielberg, intimated that if neither he nor Mrs. Horton is allowed to see Waite, tomorrow, he will take some action. Mrs. Horton, in a letter to Waite today, expressed her sympathy and confidence in his innocence.

Waite's Dual Personality.

Walter R. Deuel, attorney for Waite, in explaining his client's story of a double personality, told to the district attorney and his assistants last night, said that Waite was "stringing" the prosecuting attorney.

Emphatic denial of reports that financial or other assistance has been or will be given by them [illegible]. Waite was contained in a statement issued by the members of the Peck family after a conference here today. The statement was signed by Miss Catherine Peck, sister of John E. Peck; Percy S. Peck, his son; Mrs. Percy S. Peck, Walter Drew, their attorney, and also said to "represent the opinions and feelings" of Mrs. Clara Louise Waite, the young dentist's wife.

The assertion is made that Miss Peck assisted in financing the investigation by private detectives, which preceded that of the district attorney's office.

"The attitude of the Peck family is and has been that full justice should be done," the statement says.

Announcement was made by the district attorney of the discovery among Waite's belongings of a letter signed "Your South African Mother," and containing the sentence, "Your wife is well."

Waite lived in South Africa some years ago.

MERCURY WILL CLIMB HIGHER THIS MORNING

The mercury will climb even higher this morning, and Atlanta will enjoy a spring day, it is predicted.

Wednesday was a crisp, sunny day, a bit too chilly, perhaps, for spring. It will be much warmer today.

The eastern storm still lingers off the middle Atlantic coast, with rain from North Carolin northward. The distance of the eastern storm from this territory is largely responsible for the balmy weather that is to prevail here.

Temperatures throughout the southern states, however, are below normal. Light frosts were reported Wednesday at Montgomery, Meridian and Memphis.

JUDGE JOHN PENDLETON WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

Judge John T. Pendleton, of the superior court, has virtually announced his candidacy for re-election. His announcement tends to clarify the political situation respecting the superior judgeship, as it means the elimination of City Attorney James L. Mayson as a candidate for the position.

Several months ago City Attorney Mayson stated that in event Judge Pendleton did not make the race he would announce himself as a candidate for superior judge. In view of the decision made by Judge Pendleton it is probable that Mr. Mayson will again seek to succeed himself as city attorney.

THIRD SEEING-GA. TOUR WILL START FROM ROME

Tourists Plan to Visit Atlanta, Athens, Augusta, Savannah and Brunswick.

Rome, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Rome Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, presided over by Judge Moses Wright, it was decided to inaugurate from Rome what will be known as the third seeing Georgia tour of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, provided the full co-operation of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce with the Rome Chamber of Commerce can be secured. To accomplish this end a committee was appointed to go to Atlanta with J. D. McCartney, editor of the Rome Tribune-Herald as chairman, and work out all details with the officials of the Georgia chamber.

It is planned to have the tour go from Rome to Atlanta, thence to Athens, Augusta, Savannah and Brunswick, the tour to disband there, allowing the tourists to return at their leisure.

Edward Young Clarke, secretary-manager of the Georgia chamber, spoke at the meeting on the work of the chamber and was repeatedly applauded.

REPORT BY JUDGE TEAGUE, OF TEXAS

Remarkable Navasota Case in Which Earth Product, Vitalitas, Was Employed.

Judge J. H. Teague, a prominent jurist, known throughout Texas for half a century, furnishes a report of much interest relative to the earth product, Vitalitas. In it Judge Teague says, among other things:

"This is to certify that in October, 1906, I became afflicted with what is commonly known as muscular rheumatism to such an extent that I was compelled to take to my bed and for more than five years I suffered untold pain. I tried everything known to the Medical Fraternity for relief, visited the Hot Wells of Marlin for relief, but received little. I had almost given up in despair when I consented to try Vitalitas. After taking two bottles, I began to experience relief and so continued until today I am as free from pain as any one of my age in Texas. I am in my 72nd year and as spry as most men at 50. I can cheerfully and honestly recommend this great remedy to all suffering rheumatism, believing, as I do, that if taken as directed a permanent cure will be the result."

Not only for rheumatism is Vitalitas effective, but it literally sweeps away indigestion, billiousness, nervous debility and disorders generally of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

Excess of hydrochloric acid sours the food and forms gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy, four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach troubles with excellent results.

For instance, among many applicants we select none but those of good CHARACTER and good HEALTH. We reject all who lack perfect sight and perfect hearing. He who passes these tests is a valid insurance risk.

And we TRAIN these SELECTED men in the work they're to do. They learn the details of car construction. They drill on instruction cars under able teachers. They practice their work, and are judged by it, on regular cars under actual conditions with regular operators beside them. Finally, they're examined on their knowledge of rules and other studies. Every step in the process eliminates some.

Game Today With Quitman Stars

Edited by
DICK JEMISON

Cracker Team Will Play Exhibition Game Today With Former College Men

By Dick Jemison.

Valdosta, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) The Crackers will play an exhibition game here tomorrow with an aggregation of former college stars representing Quitman, Ga., the game being arranged over long distance telephone this morning by Manager Charles Frank. Manager Frank is undecided as to just what pitchers he will work against the Quitman boys, but it is believed that Ed Lafitte and Scott Perry will divide the work, with Niederkorn and Gutierrez behind the bat.

McMillan will lead off with the other players batting in the following order: Thrasher, McDonald, Moran, Lennox, Munch, Gagnier and the catcher and pitcher.

Osborn Ordered to Report.

Manager Frank this morning wired Outfielder Osborn ordering him to report and giving him until next Monday. If he does not join the team in Macon on that date he will be suspended by the local manager. Lil Marcan is also expected to report to the Crackers during their stay in Macon and then the battle for the keystone position will be on in earnest.

Mrs. Frank will join her husband here tomorrow.

The team will break camp here Sunday morning. Some of the players whose families are in or near Atlanta will be permitted to leave here Saturday night and spend Sunday at home.

Valdes Hotel, Valdosta, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Changeable weather the last few days has caused Manager Frank to lighten up on the work of the players a little for fear of causing too many sore arms. It has been cool in the mornings and fairly comfortable in the middle of the day.

There is certain to be a merry scrap for that keystone berth when Lil Marcan reports on the first of April, as Eddie Gagnier, the former Federal league star, has been making the natives sit up and take notice with his work around the bag since reporting here.

Gagnier is one of the best fielders that we have ever seen in action and with his pep and hustle is going to be a mighty hard man to displace. How he will hit is problematical. He has not worked out enough yet for the gang to get a line on that part of his work.

No Word From Osborn.

Nothing has been heard from Outfielder Osborn, the afraid-to-come-south candidate on the Cracker squad. Manager Frank sent him transportation, but Osborn returned his contract with the old gag that he could not and would not play in the south. Any one that can play four years in Louisville can certainly play in any city in the southern circuit.

But it's an ill wind that blows no one good. Osborn's absence has given Manager Frank a splendid chance to look Frank Thrasher over carefully, and the looking over has not only impressed Manager Frank, but all the Valdosta fans and the Atlanta scribes as well. Frank is rapidly horning his way into a regular berth and we're not particular whether Osborn reports or not.

Red Looks Good.

Virgil ("Red") Day is looking better this spring than he has looked at any time in his career. Red "had something" pitching to the batters yesterday morning during batting practice, and the best of them had considerable trouble locating his benders. That old knuckle ball is hopping through and the players say that he has a good deal on his fast one also, while he never gave them a real good ball to hit at.

Given about two more warm days before they leave here Sunday, the Crackers will pull into Macon for their games with the Sally leaguers there next week in good shape, and about ready for the gong. Eddie Lennox and Jake Munch are now the only players whose arms are giving any trouble and they are being nursed carefully.

Little Tommie McMillan has been taking his fielding practice in "sneaks" owing to the blisters on his heels. Matty hit a fierce grounder the other day and the Rabbit made a try for it, only to have the pellet hit him on the big toe of his right foot. Down went the Rabbit, but little sympathy did he get from his fellow players, who are always ready to kid.

Ball players have a cute trick of introducing themselves to any lady fans who may be around the hotel. Walking up to one of them a player will ask, "Pardon me, but could I borrow a needle and thread for a little while." This is said to be Ed Lafitte's standard method of introduction and when Eddie Gagnier pulled it the other day, the gang gave the dental carpenter the merry ha-ha.

Jose Gutierrez, the Cuban, is becoming acquainted rapidly. And his bashfulness, which is natural, as he speaks only broken English, is rapidly disappearing. Jose is not the least bit sensitive, and laughs with the rest when they mock some of his sayings.

JACKETS ARE PREPARING FOR W. VA. WESLEYAN

Local Baseball Season Will Be Opened at Grant Field on Friday Afternoon.

The local baseball season will be ushered in tomorrow afternoon at Grant field when the West Virginia Wesleyan opens a two-game series with the Tech Jackets.

Although hampered by the bad weather this week, practices have been indulged in every afternoon with one or two exceptions, the squad is in good shape.

Captain Senter worked a few innings for the scrubs yesterday afternoon against the varsity and appeared in splendid shape. He will take a light work-out this afternoon and will go into the box Friday.

Both Bryant and Puckett are in shape, and either one may twirl Saturday.

From the close games that West Virginia has been playing in this section, they appear to have a good team, one that will make the locals extend themselves to win.

BAINBRIDGE TO REPLY TODAY ABOUT LEAGUE

Decision Will Probably Determine Other Cities in Proposed Dixie Circuit.

Bainbridge, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) This city will give, on Thursday, a definite reply to President Dick Jemison and the directors of the Georgia State league regarding entering a new organization to be known as the Dixie league.

At the meeting held Tuesday night here a committee was appointed to visit all the business men regarding the project, soliciting subscriptions, and an answer was promised to the visiting baseball men by Thursday afternoon. If Bainbridge enters the league it will probably determine the personnel of the rest of the league, so as to eliminate any long jumps. If Bainbridge enters, it will also be with the proviso that but sixty games are played during the season. This seems to also be the wish of the majority of the proposed cities.

President Jemison is aiding the cities in organizing, but announced here that he would have no connection with the new organization.

ORGANIZED BALL SUED FOR $900,000

Baltimore Federal League Club Attacks Under U. S. Anti-Trust Laws—Existence of O. B. Is Involved.

Philadelphia, March 29.—Organized baseball is facing another attack against its existence in a suit for $900,000 damages filed in the United States district court here today under the national anti-trust laws by the Federal League Baseball club of Baltimore. The defendants are the National and American leagues and the sixteen clubs making up their membership, the three members of the National Baseball commission, James A. Gilmore, Charles E. Weeghman and Harry Sinclair, formerly of the Federal league.

If the Federal league club of Baltimore wins its suit organized baseball will be liable to attack by the national government, it is said. The difference between the suit filed today and the one begun by the Federal league against organized baseball in Chicago in January, 1915, is that the present action is one for damages only, while the former was for an injunction to restrain organized baseball from continuing certain acts alleged to be in violation of the Sherman law.

Government May Act.

To win the present action the Baltimore club must show that organized baseball is in violation of the Sherman law and the Clayton anti-trust act. If it proves this and recovers damages lawyers said tonight the government may have to take cognizance of the court's decree.

The Baltimore club alleges that it was not considered in the negotiations last winter which resulted in the so-called peace agreement between organized baseball and federal league owners and that in consquence it suffered a loss of $300,000 and asks for triple damages under the federal anti-trust laws.

The bill of complaint gives a history of the present organization of the game and its operation, mentioning the national agreement, the national commission, the baseball player's fraternity, and the various leagues that enter into organized baseball. It recites the organization of the Federal league, charges that organized baseball entered into a conspiracy to wreck it and goes into details of the negotiations whereby the Federal league was eliminated from baseball competition.

The Baltimore club charges that the National and American leagues are operating in a combination or conspiracy to restrain trade and have conspired to monopolize or to attempt to monopolize a part of the commerce of the states in violation of the federal anti-trust laws.

Conspiracy Alleged.

The bill states that in the alleged conspiracy to wreck the Federal league organized baseball "gave or secured" to the Brooklyn Federal league club $400,000 to induce that club to cease competing with the defendants and that by cash contributions of not less than $50,000 and "flattery and persuasion," induced Charles E. Weeghman and his associates to desert the Federal league.

The complaint also states:

"This plaintiff is informed and believes and alleges that all of the remaining constituent members of the Federal league, not including the plaintiff, authorized a committee, consisting, according to the information of the plaintiff, to the defendants, James A. Gilmore, Harry Sinclair and Charles E. Weeghman, to settle their position and to protect their rights as best they might, induced thereto, the plaintiff believes and charges, on account of the realization of the hopelessness of repairing the damage already done to the Federal league as a whole by the defection from its ranks of its most important members, and said committee has now signed an agreement on behalf of all of the assenting members of the Federal league agreeing to eliminate further competition with the defendants."

Statement by Tener.

New York, March 29.—President Tener, of the National league, when informed of the suit filed in Philadelphia today by the Baltimore Federal league baseball club, said:

"Organized baseball conducted its negotiations looking to an adjustment of baseball conditions with the Federal league as an organization. It was our understanding that the Federal league was acting for all its component clubs. In effecting an adjustment of baseball conditions we are satisfied we did nothing inconsistent with the Sherman anti-trust act or Clayton act. Therefore, we fail to see where we are liable as set forth in the suit of the Balitmore Federal league club."

ASCENDED 16,000 FEET IN HYDRO-AEROPLANE

Lieutenant Saufley Breaks the World's Altitude Record at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., March 29.—(Special.) Lieutenant R. C. Saufley, in a Curtiss hydro-aeroplane, broke the world's altitude record for a hydro-aeroplane this morning, the instruments on the machine showing that he had risen above 16,000 feet.

Lieutenant Saufley lighted at noon none the worse for his flight to the clouds. He had flown more than three miles above the earth, and the record probably will stand for many years.

Lieutenant Paunac overturned in a hydro-aeroplane this afternoon, but was not injured. The machine was damaged.

BIG MAJORITY CERTAIN FOR IMMIGRATION BILL

Washington, March 29.—House leaders said tonight the Burnett immigration bill, with its literary test and Oriental exclusion features, would pass by an overwhelming majority tomorrow. Opponents of the measure conceded defeat, but said they hoped to secure adoption of some important amendments. The house will meet earlier than usual, so that a vote may be reached by night.

Representative Sabath announced tonight he would try to have eliminated the amendment of Representative Humphrey, adopted yesterday, under which restrictions by any foreign country on immigration from the United States would become reciprocally effective upon immigration from that country into the United States. He said the provision, adopted on the plea that it was necessary to guard the northwestern states against an influx of undesirables from British Columbia, would have far-reaching and undesired effects on immigration from other countries.

TERM OF SIX YEARS FOR THE PRESIDENT

Washington, March 29.—Representative Bailey of Pennsylvania, one of the close friends of W. J. Bryan in the house, introduced a resolution today to increase the presidential term to six years, with one term limit.

Mr. Bailey said the democratic party and President Wilson had been unjustly criticised in connection with the single term plank of the Baltimore platform and pointed out that Mr. Wilson did not pledge himself to one term, but merely was pledged by the convention to the principles.

LOOKING THEM OVER

DID YOU KNOW—

That the poor showing made by the Athletics last season was not the worst performance ever staged by a major league club? Most people no doubt figured that when the Mackmen finished the season with 109 defeats and only 43 victories, that the former world's champions had made a record that was far from enviable. The percentage of Mack's team for the season was .288. The only other team in the majors that ever outdid the stunt of the Mackmen in going the wrong way was the Washington American League club of 1904. Throughout the entire season the Senators were able to compile only thirty-eight victories, while 113 defeats were charged against the Capital City representatives. The team's percentage was .251 for the season, which figures that it was able to win only one game in every four played.

That the season of 1912 featured some of the greatest pitching in the history of baseball? It was in that year that Rube Marquard started in on the opening day of the season and went until July 8 before he suffered a defeat. During that time Marquard piled up nineteen straight victories, equaling the world's record of the major leagues held by Tim Keefe, and made in 1888 with the New York club. In the American league, Walter Johnson early in the season established a new record for the Johnsonian organization with sixteen successive victories, topping Jack Chesbro's record of fourteen straight in 1904. Just about the time Johnson was finishing his long run of victories, Joe Wood, of the Boston club, was starting a winning streak, that ended only when he had equaled Johnson's feat of capturing sixteen straight. Other pitching feats worthy of mention in 1912 were eleven straight wins by Dubuc, of Detroit, and seven by Jeff Tesreau, of the New York Giants. Joe Wood's performance sparkled with brilliant bits of pitching. While Rube Marquard scored only one shutout in his run of nineteen victories, Wood pitched six shutout games in his sixteen wins. In four other games he allowed only one run, so that in ten of the sixteen games, the opposition scored only four runs off his delivery. In not one of the sixteen games did the opposing club score more than four runs, which gives a real idea of Wood's great effectiveness.

That the Washington club, of the American league, established a record during the season of 1912 for consecutive games won on foreign grounds? On May 30, in the afternoon game, Washington beat Boston at the latter city, 5 to 0. That victory started a run of sixteen straight wins on foreign grounds. Departing from Boston, the Washington club made a swing around the entire western circuit of the American league. It succeeded in doing what no other team has ever been able to do, sweeping the series in each city. Four games were won at St. Louis, four at Detroit, four at Chicago and three in Cleveland. Returning home from such a wonderful trip, a capacity crowd greeted Washington on its home grounds against Philadelphia. It so happened that the schedule called for only one game with Philadelphia. It resulted in a victory for the home team, making the run of victories seveteen straight. The Washington club then invaded Philadelphia for a series, and had the winning streak broken on June 19 in the first game of a double-header. Washington apparently had this game won until the unexpected happened. In the last half of the ninth, with two down and two strikes on Frank Baker, the one-run lead enjoyed by Washington seemed to have the victory cinched. Just at the time when most every one had figured Washington had made it eighteen straight, Frank Baker got one to his liking and hit the ball over the right-field wall at Shibe park. That tied up the game. The Athletics won out in the tenth on a close decision at the plate that was strenuously protested.

HOKE SMITH'S MEASURE OPPOSED BY CUMMINS

Washington, March 29.—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, spoke for two hours in the senate today against a bill by Senator Smith, of Georgia, which would permit the president to appoint judges in federal, district and circuit courts of appeals to assist judges who are more than 70 years old. Republican senators charge the bill is a partisan measure and designed to permit the president to place nineteen democratic judges on the federal bench.

SHIPPERS TO DISCUSS FREIGHT RATES TODAY

Meeting in Macon to Devise Plans for Fighting Proposed Increase.

Macon, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Traffic managers, merchants, shippers and manufacturers from all over the state will gather here tomorrow morning for a conference, at which plans will be devised for resisting the effort on the part of the railroads to increase their freight rates in Georgia. Included among those in attendance will be representatives of the Georgia Lumber Shippers' association, Merchants and Manufacturers' association and traffic managers of the various commercial bodies over the state.

Lumber, brick and sewer pipe manufacturers are especially hard hit by the proposed new tariff, an increase of almost 100 per cent having been asked by the railroads for handling this class of freight. The meeting will be held at the Hotel Dempsey at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, March 29.—(Special.)—The cotton market still continues rather featureless. No new developments occurred today, except the unconfirmed rumor that the various governments of the allies were about to attempt measures to reduce the cost of ocean freight, and should this be done it might add somewhat to our foreign demand for cotton. We are inclined to think the prices of ocean freight will be high for many months to come, the price of freight being dependent upon the supply of freight room obtainable.

The drought in Texas is talked so much that even some of those outside the cotton trade are inclined to the bull side of the market because of that drought. In our opinion the drought will add to the acreage in cotton and not subtract from it. Any slight advance above present contract prices will bring us into the 12-cent zone to the farmer for his left-over cotton, and he seems willing to accept 12 cents, and we are therefore inclined to think much further advance will be stopped by actual cotton.

We cannot advise the purchase of cotton under present conditions.

RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, March 29.—(Special.)—The preliminary investigation continued by our Watkins bureau indicates that 33,504,000 acres will be planted in cotton this year, an increase over last year of 1,969,000 acres, or 6.2 per cent. It is estimated that 3,306,000 tons of fertilizer will be used, compared with 2,743,000 tons last year and 4,727,000 tons in 1914. This is a reduction of 16 per cent, as compared with last year and 51.2 per cent as compared with 1914. We regard this as of the utmost importance in connection with the yield per acre and an allowance of 5 per cent, or 9 pounds per acre, should be made for this item, which would reduce the ten-year average yield of 186.3 pounds per acre to 177 pounds, indicating a crop of 12,406,000 bales, inclusive of linters.

The preliminary estimate is by no means an experiment. The Watkins bureau has conducted a similar investigation about March 15 for the past ten years and its records show that it is entirely possible to make an intelligent forecast of the acreage at this date.

Our preliminary report last year showed a large reduction in acreage and the use of fertilizer based upon which we placed the indicated crop on March 29 last year at 11,000,000 bales, exclusive of linters, this estimate caused considerable criticism at the time, but we now refer our critics to the official government census report issued March 20, 1916, which shows that the crop of 1915 was exactly 11,059,430 bales. In order to make a large crop in Texas it is absolutely essential that the winter rainfall should approximate the normal whole in the states east of the Mississippi river. It is equally necessary to use a normal amount of fertilizer in order to produce a large crop. The Texas rainfall from November to March, inclusive, this season was only 5.77 inches, compared with the normal of 10.46 inches and 5.46 inches in the disastrous year of 1909, when the yield per acre throughout the belt was only 154.3 pounds.

Last year the boll weevil advanced into twenty-two additional counties in Alabama, thirty-six counties in Georgia, eleven counties in Texas and five counties in Florida, and the destruction from this pest this year will be far greater than for any year since 1909. Therefore, conditions thus far are decidedly against the expectatations of even an average yield per acre. Statistically the position of cotton during the next sixteen months promises to be one of the strongest from a bullish standpoint on record and we unhesitatingly advise investment in cotton at prevailing prices.

H. F. BACHMAN & CO.

New York, March 29.—(Special.)—General business continues very limited in this market, but there is enough trade buying each day to hold it steady and take care of whatever cotton is offered for sale. Dry weather in Texas, peace rumors and a firm spot situation operate in favor of buyers at this time. However, the local trade feels that prices will eventually weaken because of the south's determination to plant a large acreage.

JAY, BOND & CO.

New York, March 29.—(Special.)—There was nothing of a stirring nature in the cotton market today, and values moved over a limited area, as in previous sessions, with dealings restricted. One thing is becoming increasingly evident to us, and that is that the market shows a fair degree of resistance to declines from this level. It is our opinion also that new crop prospects are beginning to exert their influence, and the better undertone to the market seems to reflect both the firm spot situation and unfavorable crop start. In this connection, however, we must not overlook the political happenings, both in the absence of anything unfavorable in the latter, it begins to look as though the "crop scare" period is upon us, and commitments should be made with the above influences in view.

SHEARSON, HAMMILL & CO.

New York, March 29.—(Special.)—The market recently has been so quiet that it is hardly necessary to reiterate our daily advices calling attention to its action in view of the political situation, and to again comment on the fact that in our opinion the underlying facts justify these or higher prices, which facts we think the market fully demonstrates, without any comment from us.

JOHNSTON, STORM & CO.

New York, March 29.—(Special.)—The market today was small but steady, with some demand from southern spot houses, reflecting the covering of hedges against March commitments, which must be filled before the end of the month.

The local sentiment remains bullish and in the absence of any general selling movement, the market responded easily up to a certain extent, to moderate buying. A rather better demand is reported from southern mills, but otherwise the market appeared featureless.

There were no rains in Texas, but predictions were for unsettled weather and the possibility that the unsettlement might bring a break in the Texas drought prevented any active demand in the fall months.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, March 29.—Cotton seed oil was lower under liquidation, the outcome of poor demand generally and heaviness in lard. The decline caught some stop orders and at the close prices showed net losses of 12 to 15 points. Sales, 22,100 barrels.

New York, March 29.—The cotton market continued quiet, but showed a generally steady tone today on reports of a good spot demand and the appearance of a little trade demand for old crop months. July contracts sold off to 12.03 early, but advanced to 12.12 in the late trading and closed at 12.11, with the general list closing steady at a net advance of 2 to 5 points.

The opening was unchanged to 4 points lower, and the active positions sold about 3 to 4 points under last night's closing figures right after the call with May touching 11.93, and October 12.13. The forecast for unsettled weather in the western belt, and talk of showers in that section by local map readers, probably caused some scattering liquidation, but offerings were well taken with Liverpool a buyer of July and October, and the market soon steadied.

Demand was by no means active or general, but offerings were light and the market showed increasing steadiness during the afternoon, with May selling up to 12.01 and October to 12.23 in the late trading, or about 5 to 6 points net higher. The close was within a point or two of the best. The narrowing of the difference between May and July to about ten points attracted some attention, but at this basis one of the local spot interests seemed willing to sell some May against purchases in the summer months, and at times there was also some liquidation of long July contracts accompanied by repurchases of December. Some of the press advices reaching here indicated that the rains toward the end of last week had broken the drought in central Texas, and private reports said these rains had been beneficial over Oklahoma and parts of Texas, but there was some buying of new crop positions during the day on an idea that the rainfall had been insufficient to make up for a poor season in the ground.

New Orleans Rises 3 to 4 Points.

New Orleans, March 29.—The cotton market made a show of underlying steadiness today which confused early short sellers and caused them to cover at the advance late in the session. This buying on their part resulted in closing the market practically at the top, a net gain for the session of 3 to 4 points.

In the early trading scalpers were inclined to go short on the report that the spot demand in Texas had exhausted itself and under the offerings prices fell 4 to 5 points below the level of yesterday's close. The unsettled state of international politics prevented aggressive support from the long side, but gradually the continued drought in Texas had its effect and as the day grew older the contention was made that light offerings alone were responsible for the small trading in actual cotton. Following the quoting of the local spot market at unchanged prices futures went to their highest, a net advance of 3 to 5 points.

PROFESSIONALISM RULED SECURITIES

Rail Shares Are Under Restraint—Specialties Zigzag. Bethlehem Leads the Steel Group Decline With 19 Points Loss.

New York, March 29.—Special stocks were pushed back and forth during most of today's professional market, while Wall street, that is, the trading element, engaged in further aimless discussion regarding European and Mexican affairs. Superficially at least, there were no new developments in these quarters, but the lack of definite advices and the studious abstention of public interest were in themselves deterrent factors.

Railway shares were under obvious restraint, especially in the latter part of the day, when Reading, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and New York Central recorded declines of one to almost two points. Heaviness of this group was attributed to two distinct reasons—signs of increasing tension between executives and employees over pending differences and strong indications of further foreign liquidation.

Almost one-third of the day's turnover was contributed by such speculative issues as Crucible Steel, Mercantile Marine, Mexican Petroleum and Anaconda Copper. Of this mixed assortment some were higher, but most were inclined to shade.

Coppers were irregularly higher in the forenoon, their strength and activity being associated with unconfirmed reports of the placing of additional large orders for export. Other metals were nominally higher, but yielded to moderate pressure.

United States Steel was again shunted to a subordinate position in the list of prominent stocks, and weekly trade reviews referred significantly to the "more conservative spirit" in the steel trade, together with signs that the "crest of the wave of price advances has been reached or is near at hand." Steel was offered in large blocks down to 84 towards the close and Bethlehem Steel lost 19, to 451. Little remained of early gains in the final dealings.

Canadian Pacific reported a net gain of $315,000 for February, with an increase of $420,000 for Illinois Central. Several minor lines showed substantial gross gains.

The bond market was steady on contracted dealings. Anglo-French 5's were extensively traded in at the maximum of 95½. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,375,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BEARS HOLD SWAY IN THE CHICAGO PIT

Canadian Competition, Huge Stocks and Lack of Support Operated Against Grains—Cheaper Hogs and Grains Sags Provisions.

Chicago, March 29.—Reports that 1,000 cars of Canadian wheat were headed to Duluth for storage had a good deal to do today with wiping out price gains which had been scored in the market here. The result was an unsettled close at the same as yesterday to ⅝@*c lower. Corn finished ⅜@½ to ½c down, oats ⅛c off to ⅛@¼c up, and provisions at a decline of 12½ to 27½@30c.

News of the big shipments of wheat from Canada to be piled up in warehouses in the United States came before the end of the first hour of trading, when bull leaders here were questioning whether an advance of six and a half cents a bushel since Monday had not been too rapid, despite severe injury to the domestic winter crop. Knowledge of wholesale imports from Canada seemed to decide many holders to realize, and also brought about aggressive selling pressure from the bears. At the same time, predictions were current that Kansas would yield 100,000,000 bushels, and there were optimistic crop advices from Nebraska contradicting earlier reports of damage. Throughout the remainder of the day except just before the close, the market was on the down grade, with losses not entirely overcome by spasmodic upturns at the finish.

Lower quotations from Liverpool, where supplies were said to be increasing regardless of Germany's submarine campaign, had a bearish effect on the wheat market here, especially at the outset. Afterward, however, for a short while the continuance of domestic crop damage reports emphasized by unfavorable weather in the spring wheat belt, dwarfed every other influence until counteracted by advices about Canadian shipments and by improved crop reports from Kansas and the west.

Corn lacked support. The big stocks on hand, together with the prospect of a liberal increase formed the chief incentive for selling.

Oats developed relative firmness owing to purchasing on the part of the recent speculative short sellers. Delays to seeding furnished the motive.

Provisions fell on account of the break in the hog market and because of the declines in wheat and corn. Little or no power to rally was shown.

Atlanta Petitions for Lower Transcontinental Carload Freight Rates

Washington, March 29.—Reductions of from 12½ to 43 per cent on carload rates on apples, pears, canned goods, oranges, lemons, grape fruit, canned salmon, dried fruit, and nuts, from Pacific coast points to Atlanta were sought today in a petition to the interstate commerce commission by Atlanta business interests.

Present rates are declared excessive and discriminate against Atlanta in favor of Birmingham, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, Mobile and New Orleans.

The petition asserts that Atlanta enjoyed through joint rates from the Pacific coast in 1902, but that these rates were cancelled in 1903.

"The cancellation of the joint rates, resulting in large increases, were not occasioned by any change in the transportation conditions," the petition reads, "but were the direct result of a disagreement between carriers."

The petitioners asked leave to file hereafter a tabulation setting forth the amount paid by Atlanta merchants on account of alleged unlawful charges and indicated that a refund of alleged excess charges would be sought.

Sugar.

New York, March 29.—The local market for raw sugar was considerably less active today and prices showed a decline of 1-16c. The five-cent level for raw sugar appeared so attractive to holders that early today there were upwards of 100,000 bags offered at that level, but the continued competition with Porto Rico sugars, which were offered as low as 5.02, with some small lots even believed sold at 5.89 for centrifugal seemed to check the demand from refiners and the days' business amounted to only 16,000 bags of Cubas afloat at 4 9-16c, cost and freight, at which level the market closed. Centrifugal was quoted at 5.96, molasses 5.19.

In refined there was only a moderate trade reported for local account, although withdrawals on old contract were said to be liberal. There were inquiries in the market from exporters and it was generally believed that fair sales for April shipment abroad could be made if refiners were able to make delivery, but being already engaged on old orders for the whole month, no business was reported. Prices were firmly held at 7.00@7.10 for fine granulated.

Futures showed a pretty steady undertone at the opening with prices about unchanged from the previous close, but when offerings of raw sugar became more liberal and prices showed a slight decline liquidation set in and values eased off, closing 8 to 10 points net lower for the more active positions.

Sales, 6,800 tons.

Coffee.

New York, March 29.—An early advance in the market for coffee futures was encouraged by the continued steadiness of Brazil, but prices eased off under realizing in the later trading and the market was somewhat irregular at the close. After opening at an advance of 2 to 4 points, active months sold about 4 to 10 points net higher during the middle of the day, with late deliveries making new high ground for the season on scattered covering and a little buying by houses with European connections. There appeared to be comparatively little coffee for sale after the liquidation of yesterday, but offerings increased around 8.42 for September and 8.53 for December with prices easing off to 8.35 and 8.43 for those positions late in the afternoon. The close was 7 points higher on March, but generally unchanged to 3 points lower. Sales, 33,250.

Cost and freight market was steady with prices about unchanged or around 10.25 to 10.55 for Santos fours, basis London credits.

The official cables reported an advance of 75 reis in the Rio market and of 1-32d in the rate of Rio exchange on London, while Santos was unchanged. Victoria reported clearances of 3,000 bags in New York and 32,000 for New Orleans. Brazilian port receipts, 21,000; Jundiahy, 6,000.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES

From Day to Day

Robert R. Otis, president of the Atlanta Real Estate board, and chairman of the executive committee of the general plaza committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, yesterday issued a call for a meeting of the executive committee to be held in the directors' room of the American National bank at noon Friday.

The Western & Atlantic railroad lease commission, appointed by the recent legislature, will meet Tuesday, April 4, at the state railroad commission's offices here, and Chairman Otis thinks that preliminary arrangements should be made in advance of that meeting by the plaza committee.

The members of the executive committee are: W. L. Peel, Robert R. Otis, J. E. Orr, J. R. Smith, Alex Smith, H. Y. McCord, Wilmer L. Moore and Haralson Bleckley, architect of the proposed plaza plans.

Sunday's "Professional Views."

M. L. Thrower and Ben D. Watkins, two of Atlanta's most prominent real estate operators, will contribute interesting articles to Sunday's "Professional Views" on conditions in the Atlanta real estate and renting markets. Their views will create widespread interest in local realty circles.

Mr. Thrower will write on "What is Needed on Peachtree Street," and Mr. Watkins will write on "What Landlords Should Do to Better the Renting Situation."

Builders Attend Albert Lecture.

A large assemblage of Atlanta builders was on hand last night at the Atlanta theater to hear Allen D. Albert, International Rotary president, deliver his lecture on "The Forces that Make Cities."

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

To see Sam Chip and Mary Marble is a treat at any time. But to see them amid such gorgeous settings and in such an odd and entrancing fantasy as "The Clock Shop," in which they held the Forsyth Keith vaudeville bill this week, is to enjoy them more than ever before. The lyrics are tuneful; the settings quaint, and the cast one of exceptional merit.

Manager George H. Hickman billed Gus Van and Joe Scheck precisely right when he put them down as the "pennant-winning battery of songland." Every Forsyth audience is right with them. Harry Holman is on the bill in a sketch that is as rapid-fire as a gatling gun. Additional features include Mary Melville; Lou Lockett and Jack Waldron, singers and dancers; Emily Hooper and Ellsworth Cook in an unusual dance offering and Dan Sherman and Mabel De-Forest in their "Jay Circus."

"Help Wanted."

(At the Lyric.)

"Help Wanted" is a gripping moral lesson drawn from the life of little Gertie Meyer, the unsophisticated business college graduate who meets disillusionment and temptation in the business world. It is a heart-rending story at times, laughable at others, and concludes with a pretty romance. It was written by Jack Lait, the noted Chicago playwright, and ran for two seasons in the Maxine Elliott theater, New York, and the Cort, Chicago. Miss Bunting starred in "Help Wanted" in New York.

Blanche Sweet.

(At the Georgian.)

A thrilling story of a struggle for political freedom in Russia is the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Sowers," which will be seen at the Georgian today, with the photo-dramatic favorite, Blanche Sweet, in the stellar role. This intense play is founded on Henry Seton Merriman's novel of the same name, and has to do with the efforts of a prominent Russian prince to free the peasants from the bonds of slavery. How the secret police are prevented from discovering the plot by a beautiful member of the royal household, in love with the prince, is graphically depicted. Miss Sweet is supported by a cast of unusual excellence, including Thomas Meighan, Theodore Roberts, Mabel Van Buren, H. B. Carpenter, Ernest Joy and other members of the Lasky all-star organization.

"The Precious Packet."

(At the Victoria.)

Today at the Victoria theater, Metro Pictures Corporation presents Valli Valli supported by George Leguere in "The Turmoil." This is a five-part picturization of the great American novel by Booth Tarkington. For Friday the Victoria offers "The Precious Packet," by Fred Jackson, featuring Ralph Kellard, supported by Lois Meredith, and an excellent cast. This is a Gold Rooster play, and is in five parts. Both of these features are well worth while and present notable stars in productions in which they are seen at the best.

"Undine."

(At the Strand.)

The first of the noted Bluebird plays to be seen in Atlanta will be the production "Undine," a sea fantasy, which will be shown at the Strand theater today, Friday and Saturday. "Undine" is described as similar to, yet far more lavish than "Neptune's Daughter." Ida Schnall, a beautiful swimmer is the star, and the cast includes a bevy of pretty girls who pose as mermaids.

Gloria Fonda.

(At the Savoy.)

Gloria Fonda, a beautiful girl of Milwaukee, who recently won a contest similar to the one now being conducted in Atlanta, is the star in "Drugged Waters," a Universal Red Feather feature at the Savoy theater Thursday. Miss Fonda's debut in this picture is said to mark her an actress of unusual ability as well as looks.

"The Social Pirates."

(At the Grand.)

As an added feature to the regular program today at the Grand, the first story in "The Social Pirates" series, will be shown. These stories are by the well-known novelist, George Bronson Howard, and are running on the moving picture pages of The Constitution each Sunday. Every story is complete, having been put into film form by Kalem and will be seen at the Grand every Tuesday hereafter.

The famous novelist and playwright has chosen a daring theme for his initial screen offer. His heroines, "The Social Pirates," are two clever and fascinating girls, bound by a compact to right the wrongs of the helpless and unsophisticated who have fallen prey to the schemes of unscrupulous vultures of society. They meet with a series of astounding adventures in outwitting the sharp-witted tricksters whom they seek to bring to justice. Their encounters take them into all walks of life and the clever ruses they use vary widely with each of the fifteen episodes in the series.

Some surprises in the way of lavish and costly screen productions are promised by the Kalem company in the fifteen issues of "The Social Pirates." No expense has been spared to back up the name of the famous author with productions of the highest class. The cast numbers many prominent screen favorites. Marin Sais and Ollie Kirby, stars of countless film successes, dividing the honors of the title role. In addition True Boardman, a screen star of no mean magnitude, who recently gained new laurels in "Stingaree," is seen in the support which includes Frank Jonasson, Thomas Lingham, Paul C. Hurst, Edward Clisbee and many others.

One of the biggest hits of the year is "True Nobility," the Mutual Masterpicture, the first showing of which was had at the Grand yesterday. This picture, which stars pretty Helene Rosson and E. Forrest Taylor, will be the offering again for today only.

AMERICUS LIGHT CO. WANTS HIGHER RATES

Americus, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) The future financial status and ownership of the Americus Public Service company, the $225,000 concern which produces electricity and gas for Americus, is before the people. A failure of the concern to make returns in accordance with the plans of the consolidation, by which the plant was eventually to be turned over to the city, has brought about the crisis.

City council has adopted a resolution stating that it will remain passive if the trustees of the corporation petition the railroad commission to allow a graduated scale of rates which will raise the present prices. The resolution consented to a proportionate raise in the electricity and power used by the city if the rates were raised.

ANOTHER BUNGALOW FREE (?)

HERE'S THE PROPOSITION—Figure it out, think it over. It's a brand-new, thoroughly modern 5-room and sleeping porch bungalow at Decatur; one block north of Decatur car at Greenwood Station; make a small cash payment, give me sixty 7 per cent $20 notes. They will average, interest and principal, about $24 each, just what the place will rent for. When you have paid this rent (?) five years, I will give you a warranty deed to it. All you will have to pay in addition to the above will be 7 per cent simple interest every six months on a $1,100 loan—you would have to pay the $24 for rent anyway. You will owe at the end of five years $1,100 principal and no interest. This can be extended—if you like—and you can take a rest, or it can be arranged in monthly payments, and in three or four years your rent will pay this and your home will have cost you nothing. Price, $2,750. I sold this same bungalow on a cheaper lot in 1914 for $2,500. Am building three—two already sold. P. B. Hopkins, Empire building.

ARMY OFFICER'S DEED STIRS THE COMMONS

London, March 29.—Members of the house of commons received a shock this afternoon when an army officer who was sitting in the strangers' gallery and thence, climbing over the outer railing, hung suspended for a moment over the floor of the house. He dropped thence to the house floor without apparently receiving any injury, although the drop was from a considerable height. His incoherent remarks proved that he was not responsible for his act and he was led out of the chamber.

The object of the officer apparently was to call attention to the supply of helmets for the army, for he cried out as he dropped to the floor:

"I ask you to protect the heads of British soldiers against shrapnel fire."

IMPEACHMENT IS VOTED FOR MEMPHIS OFFICIALS

Judge Edgington and Attorney General Estes Must Face Legislature.

Nashville, Tenn., March 29.—Following the decision of the house of representatives of the Tennessee legislature this morning to impeach Criminal Court Judge Jesse Edgington and Attorney General Z. N. Estes, both of Memphis, preparations were begun this afternoon for the trial of the two officials on charges of malfeasance and misfeasance.

The afternoon session of the house was taken up with the selection of boards of managers to prosecute the two cases before the senate. Under the constitution, it is the duty of the house to decide whether or not a judge or attorney general shall be impeached, and it is the duty of the senate to sit as a jury and determine whether or not the defendant is guilty.

The house selected Representatives R. A. Ashley, of Dyer county; Clyde Shropshire, of Davidson county, and E. E. Creswell, of Sevier county, to draw up the articles of impeachment against Judge Edgington and prosecute the case against the judge before the senate. The board of managers selected to draw up impeachment articles against Attorney General Estes and prosecute the case against him is composed of Representatives Hoyt Stewart, of Cannon county; L. E. Elkins, of Gibson county, and Lon Scott, of Hardin county. Creswell and Scott are republicans, the other members being democrats.

The articles of impeachment will be presented tomorrow morning to the senate which will then select a date for the beginning of the trials. It is understood that a majority of the senators favor April 10 as the date for the trials to begin and that Judge Edgington's case will be taken up first.

The house adopted the report as to Judge Edgington by a vote of 86 to 0 and as to Attorney General Estes by 85 to 1.

Both Judge Edgington and Attorney General Estes are well known citizens of Memphis. The former has been in public life for a number of years. The latter was elected attorney general of Shelby county in 1910. Judge Edgington, in published affidavits, was charged with having accepted $2,000 from a brewery agent on the eve of the modification of liquor injunctions in the court. This and other alleged irregular acts were investigated by a committee of the Memphis bar which, reporting, urged that the governor call an extra legislative session to consider impeachment proceedings

Another lawyers' committee investigating alleged personal financial transaction of General Estes reported to a meeting of Memphis lawyers recommending that the evidence secured by the committee be submitted to a "court of component jurisdiction." The meeting of lawyers hearing the report, however, adopted a resolution to the effect that the report disclosed no facts warranting further action.

TRAVEL NOT UNSAFE ON MEXICAN BORDER, SAYS RAILROAD MAN

That reports of travel hazard along the Mexican border since the Villa escapade at Columbus, N. M., generally circulated throughout the United States have been somewhat overdrawn, is indicated by a letter written by C. K. Dunlap, traffic manager for the Southern Pacific railway, at Houston, Texas, which was received yesterday by R. O. Bean, Atlanta, traveling passenger agent for that road.

"Much sensational information has gone forth to the world," to quote from the letter, "through the medium of newspaper correspondents at points along the border.

"It is safe to assume that 90 per cent of the stuff coming from the border is based upon the imagination of the correspondents, or is due to a necessity for printing a vast deal of material in response to a possible public demand, and it is quite probable that many of the traveling public have been forced to other lines through a fear that communication may be broken by Mexicans crossing over to the United States."

Mr. Dunlap says that the railroad lines skirting the border and in the vicinity thereof are under close guard by federal troops, every bridge and trestle is guarded night and day and that travel, therefore, is as safe today as it ever has been. He also adds that the reports of typhus scourge in and about El Paso and other border points have been greatly overdrawn, and that there really is not a thing to fear from that source.

ALL TOLEDO WALKING; STREET CAR MEN STRIKE

Toledo, Ohio, March 29.—No street cars ran here today and no relief was promised for the immediate future. Conductors and motormen quit work yesterday when told to remove union buttons from their coats.

Henry T. Doherty, president of the lines, declared last night that the union would not be recognized. The car men organized several days ago. No demands of any kind have been made.

ENGINEERS ARE KILLED IN BIG SANDY TUNNEL

Johnson City, Tenn., March 29.—C. D. Stamper and Dick Stephens, civil engineers for the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroad, were killed and another engineer named Wesley, injured in the Big Sandy tunnel near Dante, Va., Tuesday afternoon. The report reaching Johnson City was that the men were on a motor car which collided with a concrete mixer in the tunnel. Both the men dead were married.

CARRANZA STINGY ABOUT RAILROADS

ceived with satisfaction today at General Funston's headquarters here, but the elation manifested was tempered by the fact that the supplies must be consigned as ordinary freight to some individual not connected with the army. Late today General Funston had not received official notification that he was at liberty to make shipments over the railroad, but orders already issued to the commissary department were such that no delay was anticipated in the movement of stores accumulated at El Paso.

Staff officers at headquarters had expected the de facto government of Mexico would give unqualified consent to the use of the Northwestern railroad, and permission to ship supplies only as commercial freight, without giving the army the right to supervise their transportation, it was believed here, will prove inadequate.

Officers were frank in expressing doubt that, under ordinary rules of traffic, the shipments would reach their destinations without serious delay. It was pointed out that the railroad south of Juarez is in bad shape and a shortage of rolling stock would prove another hindrance.

The first shipment of supplies will be sent from Juarez to Casas Grandes and from there distributed by motor trucks and wagon trains to the detachments that are beating the trails 150 miles to the south in pursuit of Villa.

If possible, other consignments will be routed even further south for distribution from points nearer the points of operation.

General Pershing reported to General Funston early today the positions of the advanced columns, but the new positions were not revealed. Villa, he said, had last been reported in the Santa Maria valley, where he was said to be among friends who were making it difficult for the scouts to learn anything regarding his movements.

SUPPLY TRAIN LEAVES TODAY.

El Paso, Texas, March 29.—The first train bearing supplies to General Pershing's troops at the front will probably leave Juarez tomorrow. Immediately on receipt of news from Washington that General Carranza had permitted the use of the Northwestern railroad for the sending of supplies, final preparations were rushed by the quartermaster general for the forwarding of forage, food and gasoline.

Limitations imposed by General Carranza, confining shipments to goods sent to concerns in Mexico who have contracts with the expeditionary force, caused some disappointment among army officers. It was feared that these restrictions, coupled with the fact that military guards could not accompany the trains, might seriously hamper the transmission of an adequate stream of of supplies.

The Northwestern lines between here and Casas Grandes, near which town General Pershing has established his principal base, are admittedly in a bad way.

The equipment of the road is also poor. At the best of times a train leaving Juarez took eight to ten hours to negotiate the 168 miles to Casas Grandes. At present members of the quartermaster's staff believe the trip will not be made in less than twenty-two to twenty-five hours.

This, however, will be a considerable improvement over the time made by the motor truck trains operating from Columbus. The troops at the front require 100,000 pounds of forage and food daily and this does not include the requirements of the soldiers guarding the lines of communication or the question of gasoline. The gasoline problem is becoming difficult and expensive and is far from being solved. Large quantities are required for the motor trucks and aeroplanes and the amount needed increases steadily.

The absence of any definite news of the pursuit of Villa has caused a noticeable slackening of interest in the chase as far as the border is concerned. It is practically accepted that the bandit has eluded his pursuers, at least for the present, and that no clash between the Villa forces and American troops can be expected soon.

Business Men Beat Government.

American business men have beaten the American government in an attempt to get supplies to General Pershing's expeditionary forces at Casas Grandes by way of the Northwestern railway, it developed here tonight.

Major William Elliott, in charge of the United States quartersmter's dedot, said he had been informed that American merchants at the field base had succeeded in getting several carloads of supplies shipped south of El Paso.

Two weeks ago Major Elliott said an American came up from Casas Grandes and made inquiries regarding getting two cars of foodstuffs and other supplies dispatched to Casas Grandes. This man, it is said, was ready for the approach of the expeditionary force and reaped a harvest because of his foresight.

Three loaded freight cars consigned to Casas Grandes went over the river today, dispatched by a local wholesale firm.

MORE TROOPS FOR PERSHING.

Columbus, N. M., March 29.—A large body of cavalry left here today. No announcement was made regarding its destination, but it was understood it was being sent to reinforce General Pershing's command.

United States engineers were at work today putting the road between Columbus and Casas Grandes in better condition.

Heavy motor trucks carrying supplies to the advance troops have ground the sand gravel to a powder. Army men point out that if the administration fails to make satisfactory arrangements for the use of the Mexican Northwestern railway the brunt of the traffic of the expedition will fall on this road.

LIEUT. ALLISON DIES AT EL PASO.

El Paso, Texas, March 29.—Joseph W. Allison, second lieutenant of the Thirteenth cavalry, who was brought back to the base hospital at Fort Bliss from General Pershing's army in Mexico, suffering from a cold that developed into pneumonia, died today.

Allison is the first American officer to succumb to the climatic conditions in Mexico during the pursuit of Villa.

Lieutenant Allison was 26 years old and was appointed in 1910 to West Point from Texas. His father resides in Dallas and his wife is at present in Elizabeth, N. J.

AMERICANS RETURN TO CHIHUAHUA CITY.

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Eight Americans who came to El Paso from Chihuahua City when the United States soldiers crossed the border returned to the Mexican state capital today. They said they felt certain that all danger of molestation had passed. J. W. Hammond, one of the party, said:

"We do not think that Villa will make any advances toward Chihuahua City under present conditions. As far as the constitutionalist authorities are concerned they have always been very courteous to us."

Fifty Americans in all came to this city from the interior when General Pershing's columns started in pursuit of Villa. Ten have now returned to Mexico.

WILSON IS COMMENDED BY MAINE DEMOCRATS

Bangor, Maine, March 29.—President Wilson's administration, especially as it relates to the methods of dealing with the situation in Mexico and Europe, was commended in the platform adopted by Maine democrats at their state convention here today.

"We indorse his leadership and demand his re-election," the platform stated, "because he is the safest, the wisest, the most humane and the most clear-headed statesman now on the stage of the world."

There was prolonged applause when United States Senator Charles F. Johnson, as temporary chairman, defended the foreign policy of the administration.

OCILLA SOUTHERN ROAD IN THE COURTS AGAIN

Three Companies Called Upon to Tell Why Road Should Not Be Operated.

Following litigation which has lasted since December 30, 1914, in attempts to put the Ocilla Southern railroad out of business, Attorneys Wimbish & Ellis yesterday obtained from Judge George L. Bell, of Fulton superior court, a mandamus nisi, calling upon the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad company, with E. T. Lamb, receiver; the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railway company, which is the recently reorganized corporation, and the Ocilla Southern Railway company to appear before him in Atlanta at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of April 15 to show why any or all of them should not be forced by order of the court to operate the Ocilla Southern.

The Ocilla Southern railroad extends from Ocilla through Mystic to Irwinville, in Irwin county, a distance of 10 miles.

The petition is brought by the following petitioners:

James H. Clements, E. G. M. Fletcher, Marcus Fletcher and C. H. Austin, all citizens of Irwin county; the Ocilla Oil and Fertilizer company and the McAllister-Cook-Branch company, of Ocilla.

PARLIN ARRIVES TO MAKE ADDRESS AT DINNER TODAY

Under the auspices of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the Ad Men's club and the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association, a dinner will be given at 12:30 today at the Chahmber of Commerce in honor of C. C. Parlin, Philadelphia, manager of the promotion department of the Curtis Publishing company.

Mr. Parlin will be the principal speaker at the dinner, and will talk on the subject of "Modern Merchandising." He is considered an authority on business and salesmanship, and is said to be a speaker of exceptional force and eloquence. He came to Atlanta upon the united invitation of the three organizations named.

He arrived in Atlanta Wednesday, was met at the train by a committee composed of members of the three bodies which brought him here, and is a guest at the Piedmont hotel.

CHURCH TAX REMITTED BY THE TAX COMMITTEE

The city tax committee met Wednesday afternoon at the city hall. In the case of a negro church at No. 8 Lynn avenue it developed in the hearing that the property had been sold to the negroes by Thomas B. Felder in 1910, who transferred the notes to the Atlanta Savings bank. The property was ordered sold in 1911 for taxes assessed against Mr. Felder. Mr. Felder satisfied the committee that he had been a non-resident of the city of Atlanta since 1907, having lived without the city limits. It was also shown that the property belonged to a church organization, so it was automatically released from taxation.

HOW I DARKENED MY GRAY HAIR

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair.

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the prepared dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and, they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gave wonderful results. I gave the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it. To 7 ozs. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade, then every two weeks. It will not only darken the gray hair, but removes dandruff and scalp humors and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off and does not color the scalp.

The young man's fancy fondly turns
To a nifty, new spring suit.

My poetry is not half as attractive as my Suits. That's because I know more about selecting the highest and nobbiest classes of SPRING WEAR for YOUNG MEN than I do about making words rhyme.

But my Suits are here—decidedly the prettiest and most complete line I have ever shown at any season. Nifty, pretty patterns and weaves in good materials—made up with a swagger and style—including fine workmanship—that's irresistible.
